

Summer splash spectacle to feature 10 'watery' routines

'African Water Polo,' 'Bumble Petrus' are featured events

More than 60 Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect "swimmers" will splash and paddle for family and friends in the Arlington Heights Recreation park summer swim show Friday, July 30, at 8:15 p. m.

The swim show will include all the park activities groups, and will be directed by Frank Vokac and Esther Karstens, park counselors.

Act 1, "Sleepy Lagoon," will be a waltz routine composed of eight girls: Dolores Grant, Martha Collins, Ruth Louis Gronert, Pat Engelking, Jo Winterbauer, Sylvia Brown, Joan Davis, and Carol Cox.

Act 2, "African Water Polo," will be an exhibition in the shallow end of the pool by boys on the baseball teams. Members: Mark Morand, Wayne Hesch, Bob Chamberlain, Tom Bowersox, Gerry Moreth, Robin Mueller, Bill Lynk, David Michalski, Jim Schultheiss, Larry Levine, Mike Theis, David Lynk, Tom Meyer and Craig Baldwin.

"BUMBLE PETRUS," a duet, will be performed by Mary Lou Walters and Joan Winterbauer.

Fourth event of the evening will be a baby bathing beauty contest, and will feature crowning a king and queen of the kiddies.

A "Deep Purple" routine will be performed by this sextet: Mary Lou Walters, Lou Ann Durland, Martha Collins, Ruth Louis Gronert, Carol Cox and Alice Siemrel.

In act six, Red Cross swim classes will demonstrate life-saving techniques. The act will be composed of boys and girls who are regular members of the summer swim classes.

"Love Nest" will be a duet in double time by Elaine Kehe and Dorothy Kirchhoff.

Another sextet will enact "Beautiful Kaska." The girls are Pat Engelking, Dolores Grant, Lou Ann Durland, Alice Siemrel, Mary Lou Walters and Joan Winterbauer.

Red Cross classes also will give a demonstration in canoe safety, showing water craft safety methods. The act will be led by James Carnahan.

"Taboo," a duet, will be a Hawaiian number performed by Sylvia Brown and Joan Davis.

THE DIVING class at Recreation park will constitute another act of the swim show. Divers are Andy Gronert, Carol Holmes, Joyce Hemker, Billy Barrett, Roin Mueller, Dee Mueller, Harold Gjoen, Reed Porter, Sandra Springwell, Dick Michalski and Larry Levine.

"Sunrise Serenade" will be performed by the junior ballet group.

Results of running races by the morning girls' group was announced this week. In the senior group, first place went to Carol Schoepke; Judy Ahmer, second, and Elaine Kochton, third.

Intermediate group: Allan Schmidt, first; Helen Meyer, second, and Janice Clausen, third.

Juniors: Billy Spomer, first; Nickie Tuttle, second; and Marcia Ruth Mueller, third.

All first, second and third place winners received ribbons; losers were given candy.

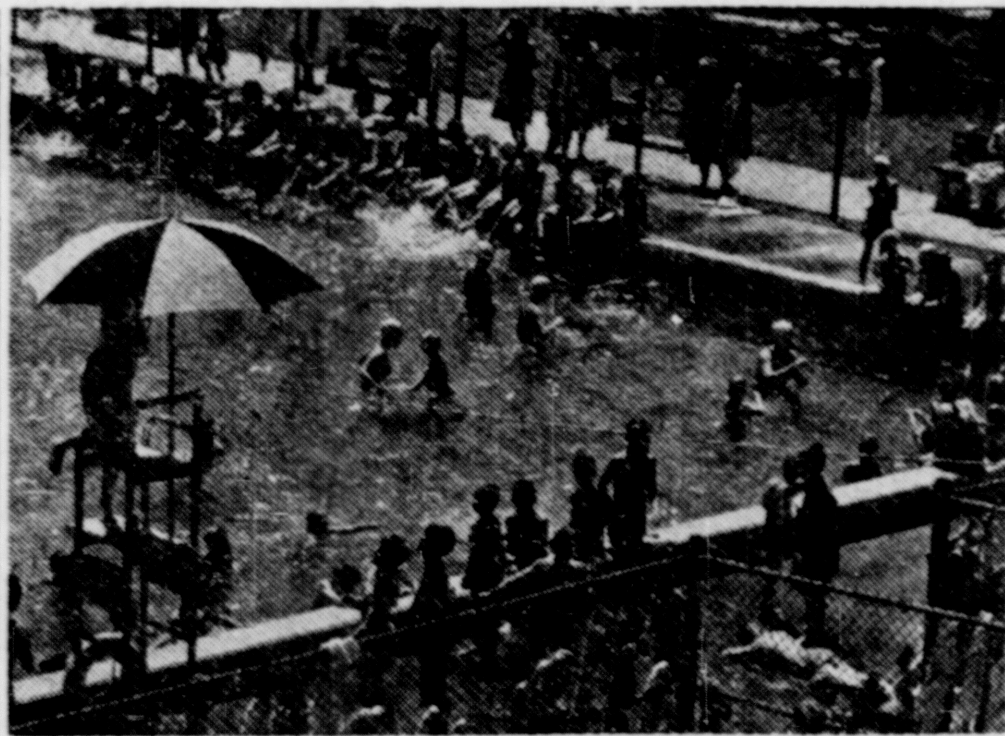

C. & N. W. asks injunction permitting new raise in suburban fares

The Illinois Central and North Western railroads are attempting to get through the courts the portion of a suburban fare increase the Illinois Commerce Commission would not give them.

They asked Superior Judge Frank M. Padden for an injunction Tuesday to restrain the commission from interfering with the immediate establishment of another 10 per cent suburban rate increase. They asked the Commission for 30 per cent, but were given a 20 per cent boost on May 6.

An earlier railroad attempt to get the increase through the courts was denied by Judge Padden on Feb. 13 on the grounds that the fines had not exhausted their legislative remedies. Now, legislative remedies are exhausted, now that the commission has granted them only part of the increase they asked for.

Drennan Slater, representing the North Western, stated his railroad continued to lose money at the rate of $2,000,000 per year—despite the 20 per cent granted by the commission.

Arlington Recreation park pool will be the 'stage' in which more than 60 Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect swimmers will dive and duck for the swim show audience Friday night, July 30.

Municipal costs outlined by annual auditor's report

The annual report of the village of Arlington Heights, published this week is a resume of the auditor's report to the village board. The total receipts of the village, with a balance of $38,463, were $198,725; expenses were $175,639.

Those figures give the overall picture. The auditor's report goes into details, some of which are of special interest to taxpayers.

1947 tax levy amounted to $99,995, of which the county treasurer extended $92,664, apportioned among the following funds:

Village	71,293.61
Library	5,124.07
Police pension	1,231.75
Municipal pension	3,596.71
Nurse fund	607.66
Cash	2,562.04
Bonds	8,248.93

THE VILLAGE also participates in the road and bridge levy. Its share of the amount extended as 1947 road and bridge tax is $5,254.45. It is no secret that due to tax objections the county treasurer holds in reserve funds belonging to various taxing bodies. He is withholding from the village of Arlington Heights $19,025.12 of the corporate fund and $2,013.86 of the road and bridge.

FINES REMITTED to the village during the year totaled $3,949, accounting for 438 of the 597 arrest tickets issued. Only 69 tickets were dismissed.

COMMUNITY NURSE service that Arlington Heights is receiving partly through the courtesy of Chicago Tuberculosis Institute is largely made possible by the cooperation of the village board, which in addition to levying a tax of $564.15, also used an additional $595.85 to cover the deficit. The high school board pays to the nurse fund $300 a year and the elementary school board $400.

Three lots in Skarsdale paid a total of $720.31 for the privilege of being annexed to the village. Vehicle license fees do not cost the motorist much money, but the village realized over $8,000 from that source last year.

STATE OF ILLINOIS remitted to the village $14,000 last year from Arlington's share of state gas tax funds, but still held to the credit of the village at the end of the year over $30,000. The credit given to the village for 12 months amounts to $12,000. Over $10,000 is used for street maintenance, $500 for traffic lights and $300 for rental of equipment. The water department operated last year on a profit of 3.5 cents a thousand gallons. The village received 23.72 per thousand and the costs were 25.22c. The three cents profit amounted to $5,000 for the year.

The figures of the report appear in section three of this issue.

Forest Preserve district issues $1,000,000 bonds for land purchase

Approval of a one million dollar bond issue for the acquisition of Forest Preserve land was given Tuesday at a regular monthly meeting of the Forest Preserve commissioners.

Forest Preserve Attorney Russell W. Root said the funds will be used as part of a continuing program for improving preserve lands, as well as meeting condemnation suits.

Watch your speed in Arlington, says Motor club head

Arlington Heights and Northbrook have not established speed traps, but their officers are doing their part to cut down accidents by a strict enforcement of state and local traffic laws. These two towns are among 18 Illinois cities named this week by Charles M. Hayes, president of Chicago Motor club, in a warning to motorists of exceptional rigid enforcement of traffic laws.

Stressing that these enforcement efforts in no way represented "speed traps," Mr. Hayes said that motorists were being policed for strict compliance with all posted speed limits as well as statutory limits of 20 miles per hour in business districts, 25 in residential districts, and 30 in suburban districts, in communities conducting intensive enforcement campaigns.

Motorists are under equally strict surveillance for observance of amber caution lights and failure to come to complete stops at stop signs in the following 18 Illinois towns and cities: Arlington Heights, Brookfield, Forest Park, Lincolnwood, McCook, Oak Park, Bellwood, Cicero, Forest View, Lyons, Melrose Park, River Grove, Berwyn, Evanston, La Grange, Maywood, Northbrook, and Skokie.

Cook County police are also extremely active in traffic law enforcement outside of cities, villages, and incorporated towns. Cook County forest preserve rangers also are concentrating on enforcing obedience of speed limits and traffic signs, Mr. Hayes reported.

No more flat feet for Arlington police

Within thirty days that three-wheeled horse Arlington Heights patrol officers have been dreaming about will become a reality.

The motorcycle was ordered this week, and an acknowledgment and bill for $1,039.38 have been received by the department.

"We had quite a time deciding on the color," one officer stated, "but our first choice is a silver gray, with second choice blue."

Music director and students in second music recital July 30

The second summer concert to be given by Harold Brunt, band instructor in Arlington Heights grade schools, and his summer session pupils will be held Friday, July 30, at 2:30 p. m. at North school.

An afternoon of fine music is available to all who attend to hear the selections played by the students and their music director. Seven grade students in summer music classes will present a 45-minute program. The students are Ashley Haase, fourth grade, flute solo; Judy Peterson, seventh grade, alto horn solo; Philip Chase, fifth grade, clarinet solo; Dave Crittendon, seventh grade, cornet solo.

Also Kathryn Kemp, eighth grade, two violin solos; Glenn Meyer, sixth grade, drum solo; and David Brown, sixth grade, alto horn.

The second half of the concert will consist of the presentation of the works of three famous composers, Mozart, Rebikoff and Grieg, by Harold Brunt, head of the music department.

Mr. Brunt studied for two years with the first assistant German pianist Arthur Schnabel and for several months with a first assistant of Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler. Two summers ago Mr. Brunt gave a series of ten concerts for parents and the public in Effingham, Illinois.

The three-concert series is being given in connection with the summer school music curriculum and is sponsored by the board of education.

Admission to the concerts is free.

Arlington police are raising their gun scores

The chances of a bandit who attempts to "shoot it out" with Arlington Heights police are a lot less than they were two weeks ago.

A shooting range has been set up near the sewage treatment plant and weekly tests are required of all officers.

Officer Jahnke, who came to Arlington from the state police force, is at present high man, but other officers intend to catch up with him before many weeks.

The range is fifty yards long. 150 shots are made at each test.

Mt. Prospect orders end of foreclosures

A resolution temporarily suspending additional foreclosures of vacant property in the village of Mt. Prospect was adopted at a special meeting of the Mt. Prospect board of trustees Friday, July 23.

This action repeals and rescinds resolutions to foreclose on which no action had been taken and where no litigation was pending.

"The town is growing too fast for our facilities. We should discuss whether to slow matters down or just what to do," stated (Continued on Page 3)

Band concert tonight

The Arlington Heights Community Band will present its third summer concert tonight, Thursday, at 8:30 p. m., at the recreation park. The 70 piece band, under the direction of F. C. Schroyer, will present a varied program of music, with tunes to suit everyone's taste.

"Hall of Fame," a concert march by J. Olivadot, will be the opening selection. The complete program is listed below.

Von Suppe's overture, "Light Cavalry"; march, "Queen City," by W. H. Boor; "Poem," Z. Fibich; march, "Glory of the Gridiron," by Harry A. Alford; "My Heart Stood Still," Richard Rodgers.

"Trees," Oscar Rasbach; selection, "Victor Herbert Favorites," arrangement by M. L. Lake; "Side Show," Robert McBride; and march, "King Cotton," by John Phillip Sousa.

Bee exhibit at 4-H fair

A bee exhibit made by David Meinecke of Arlington Heights will be one of the main displays in the exhibition tent at the 4-H fair August 27 and 28.

He is preparing a special exhibit of how bees are handled and how they work. His father, Ellsworth Meinecke, is one of the leading bee-keepers in Illinois and has shown his bee exhibits throughout the state.

The festival committee also reports the subscriptions for the Buyer's Guide are almost complete. The guide will be mailed to North Cook county farmers a week before the show.

New police car has noise-proof static squelcher

Arlington Heights police are in a dither about the new police car 106, which was delivered to the department Tuesday afternoon.

"The new car is a smooth-riding job," Chief Skoog commented, "and is equipped with the most modern devices." Main feature is a "static squelcher" attached to the radio, which, if wiggled back and forth, will give a clear air channel to the radio station.

Atop the hood is an oscillating red spotlight that shines both front and back. The flick of a button on the dashboard can make the beam stationary. Two seal-beam spotlights, more powerful than the ordinary "spot," complete the innovations on the new four-door Ford.

August tax time is here

There's no rest for the hard-working tax payer—it's tax time again.

The second installment of 1947 real estate taxes will be payable during the month of August, and local collectors will have notices in the mail next week announcing their hours for collection.

It is expected the local collectors will receive second installment taxes until Saturday, August 28. Penalty date at the county office will be September 1.

Local township collectors appreciate the fine cooperation of the public during the first collection period and look forward to the same pleasant relation during the August installment period.

Deny new trailer town petition

Arlington Heights will not have another trailer camp southwest of village limits, as proposed recently in a petition to the county board.

Attorney Hugo Thal advised Mayor Goedke this week that the county zoning board of appeals has recommended to county commissioners that the rezoning petition be denied. The commissioners will take final action on the matter August 3.

"The usual course of procedure is that the county board follows the recommendation of the zoning board of appeals," Thal stated in his letter to the village board.

The property in question is on Wilke road, north of Kirchhoff road. The property owners petitioned recently to change classification of the land from farming to business.

Schools announce registration dates for kindergarten

Ninety-four Arlington Heights youngsters have already received physical and dental examinations and have been registered for Arlington public school kindergarten, R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of elementary schools, announced this week.

The examinations, followed by a conference with the school nurse, are required before a child is registered for school. Parents can register their children at the superintendent's office before school opens September 7.

Examination blanks can be secured at the South school office by parents who were not contacted by the summer round-up committee of the PTA. Appointments for conference with the school nurse also may be made by calling the South school, Arlington Heights 465.

Any child is eligible to enter kindergarten this fall who will be five years old on or before December 2, 1948. First grade children must reach their sixth birthday on or before the same date.

Presentation of a child's birth certificate is required at the first registration, if he has not previously been enrolled in school elsewhere.

In addition to the physical and dental examination, the state of Illinois requires all children to be examined at least every fourth year. This has been interpreted by Arlington Heights board of education to mean an examination before the child's entrance to fifth and ninth grades.

Blanks for these medical examinations were distributed in June. Parents who have misplaced these may secure blanks for fifth graders at South school and ninth graders at Arlington high school.

Parents of elementary children in grades other than kindergarten and fifth grade, who are newcomers to Arlington Heights schools, are asked to register the children at the South school office of the superintendent at their earliest convenience.

For this registration, a transfer card or report card or both from the previous school should be presented. A complete registration of new pupils before school opens is necessary to make available enough supplies and textbooks for all students at the beginning of the school year.

An Open Letter To the people of Arlington Heights

The joint festival sponsored by the Arlington Heights Fire Department and the Veterans of Foreign Wars was again a huge success from all reports to date. The people of Arlington Heights deserve to be complimented for their cooperation in making it a good show.

I wish to express most grateful appreciation to the fire department, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and everyone who helped to make the festival a grand success. The parade will long be remembered as one of the best ever in this village.

No crime or disorderly conduct was reported during the entire festival, which is an excellent indication that the festival was properly managed and planned. On behalf of the Village Board, I thank all who participated in the affair.

Village President

But Arlington skipper is still game after 3-hour storm bout

Henry L. Von Jenef, 714 Mayfair road, Arlington Heights, owner and skipper of an 8-meter cutter entered in the Chicago-Mackinac yacht race, was home Tuesday afternoon after a three-hour tussle with stormy Lake Michigan waves and a five-hour towing journey behind a Coast Guard cutter.

Von Jenef and his six crew members, none of whom was injured, during their six and one-half hour bout with Lake Michigan, returned to Chicago Tuesday via ferry from Ludington, Mich., near where their craft was marooned at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Other crew members from the Arlington Heights area were Eugene Russell of Des Plaines, North Gerlee of Evanston, and A. R. Rochte, of Park Ridge.

THE "PROTON," one of the leading entries in the nationally-known yacht regatta that started Sunday afternoon, lost her mast during the severe storm and 50 mile an hour winds that whipped the sailing entries the second day of the race.

"We were sailing in the middle of Lake Michigan," Von Jenef explained, "when the squall hit. There wasn't another yacht in sight, and we hadn't sighted any of the official ships for more than fifteen hours.

"The tornado-like winds were so strong that the main mast snapped at the deck. We cut it loose and it plunged into the lake, taking with it more than $6,500 worth of brand new canvas and rigging. None of us was thrown overboard.

Von Jenef stated the "Proton's" course had been down the middle of the lake, the shortest point to the finish line.

"As a rule, and during other years I've entered the boat in the race, the middle of the lake route assured the crew of comparatively smooth sailing seas and weather," the ship owner stated.

"Our weather study this year indicated winds over the route we took," he added, "but we never expected we'd have to buffet the violent gale that tossed us back and forth among the 12 and 20-foot high waves."

AFTER FIGHTING the storm for three hours, the crew drifted another three and one-half hours before their craft was sighted by a passing ore boat, which radioed their plight to the Coast Guard. The crew was picked up at 7 p. m. and the battered yacht was towed into Ludington harbor.

The men were fed at the Coast Guard station and spent the night at the summer home of Bert Crawford, of Park Ridge, one of Von Jenef's Kiwanis brothers.

Von Jenef's "Proton" won the classic in 1931.

"I enter the race every year," the yacht owner commented, "and I'm certainly going to try again next year."

"We were quite an unseaworthy bunch of sailors when we landed in Ludington, but the storm soaking handed us by Lake Michigan won't keep us away."

Announce new teacher for bookkeeping class in adult evening school

Robert E. Schultheis, of Arlington Heights, will teach an accounting and bookkeeping course in adult evening school at Arlington Heights township high school this fall.

The course will cover basic principles and procedures of double-entry bookkeeping and their application in practice to small businesses.

Mr. Schultheis, who assisted Paul Carson, senior author of "20th Century Bookkeeping and Accounting," for two years, taught bookkeeping at Arlington in 1941 and 1942.

He received a bachelor of education degree from Whitewater State Teachers college, has two summers of graduate work at Northwestern university, and has attended Walston School of Commerce, Chicago.

John Moodie elected Legion commander

New officers were elected at the July 13 meeting of Morie Guild Post No. 208, the American Legion, Arlington Heights.

Heading the group is John Moodie, commander. Others elected to office are: Charles Daggett, senior vice commander; Alvin Werner, junior vice commander; Maurice Burns, finance officer; Joseph Wisersky, sergeant at arms; Warren Parker, chaplain; and John Otten, historian.

Kenneth Messenger and William Lenheim were elected to membership in the Post.

More than 2,000 persons viewed the 50-unit parade in Arlington Heights Sunday that climaxed the second annual festival sponsored jointly by Arlington Heights VFW Post 981 and Arlington Heights firemen.

Especially happy at the close of festivities at 11 p. m. Sunday night, and the reasons for their joy, were three people: Al Goldthwaite, 134 Park place, Arlington Heights, 1949 Ford; D. Barsel, Dundee, refrigerator; and Mrs. Charles Vogel, 219 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, motorbike.

Field contest winners in the events following the parade were Rockford eagles, first; Villa Park post, second; and Gladstone post, third.

Junior division winners were Norwood Park post, first, Gen. George Bell post, second; Lamon Boy Scouts, third; and Aurora Moose Minute Men, fourth.

Shavrin post won first place in the parade; Norman Cornwell post of Chicago was second; Elgin post 51, third; Crystal Lake post, fourth; and Homer Dahringer post of Waukegan, fifth.

Movies of the parade will be available shortly to all organizations.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 25, was:

"TRUTH"
The Golden Text was:

"Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deut. 32: 3, 4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"Shew me thy ways, O Lord: teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day. . . All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies. . . Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee" (Ps. 25: 4, 5, 10, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one—and are the Scriptural names for God. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. . . No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely; no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows. . . Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all."

ST. MATTHEW PICNIC
This Sunday, August 1, the St. Matthews church of East Maine will hold its annual picnic on the church grounds, Milwaukee avenue, one half mile North of Ballard road.

Activities will begin at 2:00 p. m., and an afternoon of good entertainment is promised. The Ladies Aid will serve supper at 5:00 p.m. An invitation is extended to the general public to attend.

FLORADORA CHIC!
"Old hats are always good for a laugh," says Mrs. L. R. Hayes, 432 Englewood Avenue. "But looking ahead, won't today's be even funnier?" Mrs. Hayes' mother and father started taking Wanzer's home delivery when they came to Chicago in 1893. Styles have changed, but not the preference for Wanzer's. "Three glasses a day, the Wanzer way," is a rule that thousands of families take at face value—for the glow of health and beauty. Enterprise 6700 is the magic number for home delivery.

Wheeling to vote on new municipal building
Wheeling village board met last Wednesday evening and passed a $50,000 bond ordinance which calls a special election on Tuesday, August 17 when the voters of that village will have the opportunity of giving their approval to the bond issue which will make possible the erection of a new municipal building.

The structure, in addition to council chambers, will include provision for fire fighting equipment, municipal machinery, including trucks and storage quarters for water department supplies.

Provision as to the location of the building is not specified in the ordinance, but architects plans, which have been tentatively approved provide for the use of the present property on which is located the village hall and water tower.

The bonds will be payable, $1,000 a year until 1952 when $2,000 will be retired each year until 1967 when the balance of $9,000 will be payable in two years. The present bonding power of the village of Wheeling is $60,000.

Chicago photographer records goodbye of Mt. Prospect soldier

Wheeling mayor arrests five Chicagoans stripping new house of materials
Arthur A. Ortel, mayor of Wheeling, is not a suspicious man, but when he saw a Chicago truck back up to a new house under construction and five men begin loading material into the vehicle, he immediately contacted the builder, Frank Seamerhorn. The two of them hurried to the brick residence on Morris avenue.

Mayor Ortel exercised his police powers and arrested the five men who were hijacking the material that had been delivered for plumbing and heating of the new residence. The men gave names and addresses as follows:

Martin Borer, 1365 N. Leavitt; Alvin Nipon, 1446 N. Campbell; Carl C. Cappello, 1640 Pierce ave.; Louis Barch, 2814 N. Troy; Howard Bruns, 1503 N. Paulina, all of Chicago.

The men claimed that some unknown Chicago man had told them to pick up the materials outside of buildings because the contractors had no use for them. They were fined $100 and cost by Judge Jaegerman.

Clever Clover 4-H club
The Clever Clover 4-H girls held their sixth meeting July 15 at the Wilson school, Palatine road. The meeting opened with the recitation of the 4-H pledge by the members.

It was decided that the club would go to Cedar Lake August 4. Members are to meet at the Wilson school at 9:30 a. m., at which time they will leave for the lake, going on Mr. Mitsch's truck.

During the meeting demonstrations were given. Eleanor Adler showed how to get a sleeve; "Press as you Sew," was a talk given by Marlene Krambeer; and "How to Make Baked Custard" was demonstrated by June Rindlesbacher and Dorothy Dittrich.

Wheeling firemen present new fire truck to village
It is an even toss up as to whether the purchase of a new fire truck by the Wheeling firemen was the spark that started plans for the proposed municipal building, or whether thoughts of the new village hall influenced the firemen to get a new truck to go into that new building.

Anyway the new truck is here and formal presentation to the village awaits approval of the bond issue by the voters on Aug. 17 that will insure an adequate home for the gift from the firemen.

The truck is a Peter Persch 500 gallon pumper which also has a 300 gallon storage tank, which will enable the firemen to also serve close-by places outside of the fire area. The cost is near $10,000.

Its purchase was made possible by the generous support that is given each year to the Wheeling Days celebration, in which the Chamber of Commerce and Fire Department join.

KAISER FRAZER

Service wherever you go

In just two years we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning—from people who drive them—how soundly they are built... how economical they are... how much enjoyment there is in owning one.

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving. Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over"—as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

Wheeling to vote on new municipal building
Wheeling village board met last Wednesday evening and passed a $50,000 bond ordinance which calls a special election on Tuesday, August 17 when the voters of that village will have the opportunity of giving their approval to the bond issue which will make possible the erection of a new municipal building.

The structure, in addition to council chambers, will include provision for fire fighting equipment, municipal machinery, including trucks and storage quarters for water department supplies.

Provision as to the location of the building is not specified in the ordinance, but architects plans, which have been tentatively approved provide for the use of the present property on which is located the village hall and water tower.

The bonds will be payable, $1,000 a year until 1952 when $2,000 will be retired each year until 1967 when the balance of $9,000 will be payable in two years. The present bonding power of the village of Wheeling is $60,000.

Chicago photographer records goodbye of Mt. Prospect soldier
When S/Sgt. John Heidemann, of 3 S. Wille, Mt. Prospect, left from LaSalle station for Camp LeJeune, N. C., his wife and daughter, Mary Lou, accompanied him to the station.

A photographer from the Chicago Sun-Times was on hand to snap his picture and that of his daughter who had fallen asleep among her daddy's gear. The picture appeared in the July 25 Sunday Times.

Sgt. Heidemann will be in North Carolina for two weeks training with the Ninth Infantry battalion of Marine reserves.

See ELSIE and BEAUREGARD IN PERSON in their nursery-boudoir at the
CHICAGO RAILROAD FAIR
APPEARING FROM JULY 20 TO AUGUST 3

Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to see Elsie, the famous Borden Cow, and her illustrious son, Beauregard—in THE FLESH!

They'll be waiting for you in person in their cow-size nursery-boudoir at the Chicago Railroad Fair, from July 20 to August 3.

BE SURE TO SEE...

- Elsie in her four-poster canopy bed
- Beauregard calf-vorting in his play pen
- Special jars of calf toiletries, including Anti-Tic Talc and Horn Grower
- The calf-size sling-scale and bull go-cart
- Elsie's special boudoir chair and private library of Animal Husbandry and Wifery, How to Live on Five Thousand Quarts a Year, Bulliver's Travels

... ALL THIS AND LOTS MORE!

You and thousands of other people in Chicagoland have seen Elsie and her impish bundle in Borden's magazine and newspaper ads. Millions of folks have already seen this celebrated mother-and-son team in person across the country.

This is your chance to see just how Elsie, the world's most famous cow, and her pocket-size Elmer, actually live! Bring the children. Bring your whole family. You'll have loads of fun at the Borden's Exhibit, because, like the best-tasting milk in town—

Foreclosures

Mayor Pendleton in calling the meeting to order.
Foreclosure is the only way to remove delinquent special assessments and taxes so clear title can be given and property used for housing purposes.

By passing the original resolution permitting foreclosure, the board hoped to benefit the town by making available lots close to the center of town at a reasonable price, and to lower taxes by spreading the amount over more parcels of improved property.

The board has consistently required a firm bid of 35% of the principal amount, which has permitted real estate men and builders to acquire land at a low figure. This saving has not been passed on to the buyer in most instances. "We haven't benefited the man who is going to be our neighbor," commented one trustee.

Most of the approximately 1000 lots which have been "ore closed" or are now pending are in outlying districts. There are still about 3000 parcels of vacant property in the village, many in the central section.

"The bigger the town the lower the taxes" myth has been exploded.

James C. Downs, president of the Real Estate Research corporation, in his talk on July 15 to representatives from the north-west suburbs, pointed out that Mt. Prospect has 96% more units than in 1940.

This increase in population has caused an increased demand for services.

The public school is rapidly becoming inadequate, although the new addition is barely completed.

A special citizens' committee has been appointed to find a solution to the drainage problem.

Another new well must be drilled to give sufficient water supply.

These and other considerations led the board to the decision that the real estate situation has improved to the extent a continued large-scale foreclosure program is not to the best interests of all concerned, at least for the time being.

Dr. C. A. Wise to fill Methodist pulpit for next six weeks

Beginning August 1 through September 12, Dr. Carroll A. Wise, A.B. Ohio Wesleyan University; S.T.B. Boston, Th.D. Boston, will be the speaker at the Methodist Meeting House in Arlington Heights.

Dr. Wise is author of the book "Religion in Illness and Health" published by Harpers in 1942. Dr. Wise's religious training and background has been extensive and interesting. He served as Chaplain at the Worcester State Hospital in Worcester, Mass., and acted as personal counselor for the YMCA and YWCA. From 1931 to 1940, Dr. Wise was instructor in psychology at Boston University.

Recently he has been director of the Toledo Council of Churches in the Department of Religion and Health, and served as Minister in charge of "Counseling at the Methodist church in Minneapolis. At present Dr. Wise is acting as Professor of Pastoral Psychology and Counseling at Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston.

Board of appeals personal property tax complaints

William M. Devine and Eli A. Golan, members of the board of appeals, Cook county, announce that complaints on the personal property valuation may be made for 1948 for Hanover, Northfield, Barrington, Elk Grove, Norwood Park, Palatine, Schaumburg and Wheeling townships.

No final date has been set for filing personal property complaints. The numbering system, which was a new innovation installed by the present board of appeals, has received wide public acclaim and will be used for both the taking of personal property complaints and the hearing of same. They will be staggered according to the volume filed so that the waiting time by the public will be kept down to a minimum.

In addition to the regular office hours for receiving personal property complaints, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., the members have directed that the office receive such complaints up to 8:30 p. m. each evening, Monday through Friday, for the convenience of the public.

County to draw up law to regulate sale of horsemeat to public

A county office with spurs on it is being drawn up to prevent mishandling of horsemeat and keep horse-hamburgers from public consumption.

Given a green light on the drawing up of a law by the county board of commissioners last Tuesday, Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director, will meet this week with representatives of the states attorney's office to begin work on the new ordinance.

Dr. Piszczek, who recently returned from a polio conference in New York, said he brought back copies of the stiff regulation on the inspection, handling and sale of the meat in the Empire state. The New York ordinance will be used as a guide in drawing up the county regulations.

Action stems from a letter to the county board last June 15 from Dr. Piszczek declaring that horsemeat was being substituted for beef in several suburban county eating places. The meat was being "disguised", and wasn't labeled as such, the health director declared. Several persons had complained they became ill after eating the alleged horsemeat "filet mignon, hamburger and sausages." In New York, Dr. Piszczek said, all horsemeat must be government inspected, and it can be sold only in licensed pet shops for pet consumption. Regulations also insist on the addition of charcoal to the prepared meat, which changes its red coloration. Though charcoal he noted, is good "character" food for dogs.

Violation of the New York laws carries a stiff fine, $500, and revocation of pet shop licenses. Dr. Piszczek said he hopes to have the new law embodied in similar conditions prepared for consideration by the next meeting of the county commissioners August 3.

Tom, who just a few weeks ago made a good showing in the Jackson Park Open, was one of sixty-four men 21 and under to qualify for the championship matches. Tom came through on Monday with a qualifying round of 78, carding a one over par 36 on the front nine but dropping to a 42 on the back side. Featured in his qualifying round was an eagle on the 390 yard eighth, when he sunk a seven iron from some 160 yards out.

Stockdale's first match was against Bob Brannon of Cedar Lake, Indiana, a student at Purdue University on Tuesday, when he beat three and one, carding a medal score of 76.

However he lost his second round match of the day to Joe Goldberg of Illinois university.

Death of Whig party foreseen in 1844 newspaper story

There may be no coincidence attached, but 104 years ago the Republican Argus, a newspaper printed in Baltimore, announced in a two-column spread the death of the Whig party.

The newspaper also printed results and comments on the election between Polk and Clay. Polk, the dark-horse Democrat, won an easy victory over Clay, standard-bearer of the disintegrating Whigs.

These and other historical notes of the era were found in a small hide trunk bought recently by Mrs. Ruth Van Deusen, owner of Golden Miller antique shop from an Aurora estate.

The "overnight" size trunk, trimmed in red and yellow leather, is lined with the Baltimore newspaper dated November 8, 1844.

Other contrasts between the old and new afforded by the news items are:

Tooth extractions, 25 cents. Killing pain, 25 cents extra.

Mr. A. M. Stratton, in a display ad, wanted to buy slaves for his plantation. The ad said: "Negroes wanted. Having returned from New Orleans, I will now pay the highest cash price for strictly negro slaves. Good species only. Auction invitations promptly attended to."

A local news item reported that a four-year-old boy, the son of a minister, fell into the well while playing in the yard and supported himself on stones at the bottom until his mother lowered herself in the bucket to save him. "The heroic rescue was a feat of great endeavor," the chronicler commented, "and the lad surely would have drowned if it weren't for the prompt action taken by the mother."

The yearly attendance report of a local public school listed the girls under the heading "female department." The boys' names were listed in a separate column.

Finally, a "strictly honorable" duel (or recontre, as termed in the newspaper) was reported between the brother of a Mr. Johnson, who challenged his brother's killer and shot him. "The strictly honorable duel took place in the wooded area around Brown's meadow, scene of the previous encounter."

Garbage dump closing forces scavengers out of business

Towns are without disposal service

Closing the Dundee National Brick Dump pits this week end, abruptly terminated the business of some 20 scavengers and ended garbage collections in Deerfield, Northfield, Northbrook, Wheeling and a large number of smaller communities throughout Wheeling Township.

Edward C. Schultz, of Wheeling, who has been serving a total of 313 Prospect Heights homes with a garbage collection was one of the 20 scavengers forced out of business.

When the Herald secured the news that the National brick dump pit had been closed the information was immediately communicated to A. J. Teborek, president of the PHIA so that the association could protect the home owners in Prospect Heights. The PHIA Health & Sanitation committee, headed by Frank J. McKee went instantly into action, confirmed the fact that Schultz was going out of business following his Thursday, July 29 pick up, and then proceeded to make a garbage disposal service possible beginning during the first week in August.

A special meeting of the board of managers met in an emergency session Monday evening at the residence of Eugene W. Oldham. The Sanitation committee's report was read to the board, its recommendation approved, and then in a true helpful community spirit all of the board volunteered to communicate its information to as many residents as possible.

New garbage service

The report read as follows:

"The Laseke Disposal Service of Arlington Heights will take over the garbage collections in Prospect Heights beginning August 1.

"Collections will be made at the door twice a week during the summer and once a week during the winter. It will be necessary to have the garbage separated from tin cans and bottles. Garbage should be in a garbage can and tin cans and bottles in a box or basket.

"The charge for this service will be one dollar and thirty-five cents a month or three months, for four dollars. There will be an extra collection and an extra charge for the removal of any large amount of rubbish other than the usual kitchen waste. This charge will be approximately 25 to 50 cents.

Residents of Prospect Heights desiring this service should immediately give their names and address to Frank J. McKee, Arlington Heights 7095-R, or directly to the Laseke Disposal Service, Arlington Heights 1780.

The latter firm's office hours are from 9 to 12 and 1 to 3 p. m. except Wednesday, and 9 to 12 on Saturday.

Dates of garbage collection will be decided upon just as soon as route maps are made and exact number of customers determined.

President A. J. Teborek speaking for the committee because of McKee's absence, informed the board members that Schultz will make refunds to all of his customers who have paid for advance service.

Rev. Robinson, Itasca, Founds Flight Training School For Missionaries be trained at a time and the entire course takes a year.

Having solved one of the difficulties confronting missionaries, transportation, Rev. Robinson has now turned his efforts to the other two. He has presented a mission technical specialists' training program to Moody that will teach photography and radio in addition to flying. Said Rev. Robinson, "Even as some missionaries are called as medical workers, some as Christian teachers, some as Bible translators, so we feel certain missionaries have-ing technical aptitudes, background, and training can be called to the task of making other missionaries' work on the field most effective."

The objective of the photographic course is to train technical missionaries in the fundamentals of photography in order that those at home may be shown the work in foreign fields.

THE RADIO communications course will make it possible for missionaries hundreds of miles apart to keep in touch with each other each day and even make it possible to communicate directly with the home mission office.

Rev. and Mrs. Robinson and their three children, John 11, Annette, 9, and Edward, 7 live at 123 Center St., Itasca. Rev. Robinson was born and reared in New York state, attended Louisiana State university on a football scholarship, and Moody Bible Institute. Rev. Robinson is interested in all sports, both as a spectator and a participant.

Sheriff Walsh to get $4500 car but must wait six months for delivery

Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh is going to have a new automobile.

Approval of a $4,000 bid for the purchase of a seven-passenger, 1947 model Cadillac for the Sheriff's use was granted Tuesday by the Board of County Commissioners at its regularly scheduled monthly meeting.

Sheriff Walsh, who has been riding in a 1942 model since he took office two years ago, said he won't be any better off than anyone else — at least for another six months, which is the time he figured it will take for delivery of the new vehicle.

A previous bid, about $1,200 higher, was turned down by the board June 29.

Every once in a while when people get the idea that there is nothing new in the world, someone comes forth with a brand new business or a startling idea.

Reverend Paul F. Robinson, Itasca, has organized the only flight-training program for missionaries in the world. Rev. Robinson knew, as all ministers know, that the chief difficulties confronting missionaries in foreign lands were lack of transportation, lack of adequate communication facilities, and lack of adequate representation at home.

He had always wanted to fly, but it wasn't until he was an ordained minister in Northville, N. Y. that he started taking flying lessons in a friend's plane. The war came along and he joined the civil air patrol, doing his part for his country and piling up flying hours for his commercial and instructor's ratings.

After the war was over, Rev. Robinson was too old, 35, to go into the missionary field himself, so he conceived the idea of offering flying instruction to younger men training for this field. Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, evinced interest in this idea, and the board of trustees hired him to get the flight program started.

AT ELMHURST airport, Moody maintains its own hangars, its own planes, and two instructors besides Rev. Robinson. Twenty missionairmen can

Children Enjoy Shopping with Mother

Remember, when you were a child, how proud you were when Mother let you choose an item of the family's menu at the grocer's—and how, when your choice was served at the dinner table, you took special pains to eat as much of it as you possibly could. Those were gold-star days in your life. Children haven't changed much over the years. Let YOUR children pick a special choice from today's fascinating array of good foods. When they place it in the convenient Jewel glider basket, they'll be as happy as you were years ago.

The Jewel reputation for quality means, too, that you can send your child to do the marketing with no worries—from fresh meats to canned goods, top quality is standard. Your youngster will promptly return home with the same high-quality groceries that you'd have if you had gone yourself.

Long skirts legal another year; bows, beads decreed for fall 'look'

By Helen Chiron
Feature Editor

This year's "summer look" of cotton dresses (many of them with let-down hem lines) and air-conditioned play shoes officially ended this week.

Despite the fact that August and September heat waves are yet to come, local women's apparel retailers have begun to replace their summer stock with the 1948-49 versions of the new "new look."

"One thing about the newest 'new look' that hasn't changed is the long skirt," Muriel Mundy, owner of the Silhouette shop, Arlington Heights, stated.

"Women, and men, who have hoped for a return to knee-length dresses will be disappointed to hear that leading designers are allowing nine inches more length than last year's dresses."

"BLACK, OF COURSE, is still the best-selling color for fall dresses, but predictions are that a new shade of moon beam gray may take the place of basic black. A new dark green shade, called continental green, also will be featured this fall," Ray Giesseke, of Giesseke's store, said.

The battle of straight vs. ballerina skirt will continue into 1949, but suits this fall will not feature boxy jackets. A fitted coat, in a slightly longer length than last year's version, has been given the nod from New York, and the suit will have a modified ballerina skirt.

"Last year's bias cut skirt, which swished and swung over a full taffeta underskirt, is out," Daniel Senne, proprietor of Emerald Shop, Arlington Heights, told the reporter.

DESIGNERS HAVE recovered sufficiently from the whirling change of fashions in 1947 to hear the pleading protests of American men (and their waiters), and have taken excess yardage out of the ballerina skirt to help keep prices down.

Back interest, which last year highlighted new look fashions, also has undergone several vital changes. Bustles have been supplanted by bows, ruffles, gathers and pleats.

And while the confused American woman is busy stitching ruffles where bustles bloomed, she may as well rip off all the sequins on that dress she wore last New Year's eve and replace the detail with beading. This change, too, is a part of the "word" from New York way.

Other official fashion notes are: gold trim in belts and shoes will be carried over into the fall scene; back to school frocks will feature the classic plaid (with gold belt); suits will display intricate shoulder detail; and coats will be full and long, but a discerning male will detect a 1948 product by the cuff treatment of buttons and tabs.

THE PROPRIETORS make seasonal trips to New York to view the latest changes in the fashion scene and, according to Mr. Senne, "to buy the hottest numbers." Muriel Mundy also does seasonal buying from Dallas houses. They started buying fall fashions in May, and in a few weeks will concentrate on adding a holiday line of Christmas and New Year frocks.

"One of the slower changes that has occurred in women's fashions during the past year is that manufacturers have geared cutting and sewing machines to the petite 5 foot five inch women who constitute 60 percent of the feminine population," the Emerald shop manager commented. No longer will the average height woman have to raise a waist-line or hike a hem to get a proper fit.

Suburban women are not too radical in their fashion tastes, but New York predicts they will eagerly adopt the latest fashion mutations to add the "something new" look to the latest version of the new look.

Seven baptized Sunday at St. Peter Lutheran church

The sacrament of holy baptism was bestowed on seven children at the St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church last Sunday, with L. V. Stephan officiating.

Thomas Leroy, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Nawrot of Arlington Heights, was among the group christened. His sponsors were Mrs. Hilda Rateike, Lorraine Nawrot and Kurt Stoeckel.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Y. Bradley, Arlington Heights, was christened Kathleen Anne, and had as sponsors Mrs. Lawrence Niemeyer, Irwin Niemeyer and Phyllis LeSever.

New auto parts store owner sees Arlington as 'lucrative business field'

The zooming auto business has added an auto supply store to the Arlington Heights commercial area.

Arlington Auto Parts company, 112 S. Evergreen, was opened several weeks ago by Douglas Samuelson, of Oak Park. The store is a branch of Oak Park Auto Supply and caters to wholesale and retail trade.

Manager of the local store is Ray Hanke, of Arlington Heights, assisted by Harold Radloff, also of Arlington.

Mr. Samuelson, who covered Arlington territory "on the road" thought this was such a lucrative business field he decided to open the branch store here.

Prize winner on radio program

Mrs. Edna Glade was a prize winning contestant at a recent broadcast of CBS' "Hint Hunt" heard Monday through Friday at 3:00 p. m.

Mrs. Glade told Chuck Acree, the "Head Hunter," "To test syrup for candy or cake frosting to see if it is cooked, use a spoon with a small hole in the handle. Insert handle in the syrup and then blow through the hole. If the bubble holds its shape the syrup is done."

For this suggestion, Mrs. Glade received a set of table lamps.

Last two weeks for scout campers

Monday morning saw the last group of 2-week scout campers leave for Twin Lakes reservation. This is the last contingent for 1948 and will remain in camp for two weeks. There will be a 1-week period following, for campers who were unable to attend before.

Charles Robison, district commissioner of the Algonquin district, visited camp over last week-end and learned from Asst. Camp Director W. E. DeBur that twenty-five of the present campers are from Des Plaines. Twin Lakes Reservation is owned by the Twin Lakes Council at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Northwest Suburban council scouts are given 8 cabins which they occupy, and all scouts from both councils share the dining hall, scoutcraft, recreation, water front facilities and all participate in the same program.

Parents and friends of scouts are always welcome to visit Twin Lakes Reservation. They may also have an opportunity to visit the site of the Northwest Suburban Council camp on Funk's Lake, which is only five miles south of Twin Lakes.

The group making up the last 2-week period include: Jim Anderson, Richard Averill, Robert Averill, Pat Baudin, Ronald Brown, Russell Church, Jack Comer, Robert Czerwonky, Francis Donaldson, Don Dwiell, Corwin Gerrard, Louis Gibbs, Kenneth Gniot, Warren D. Hansen, Paul Jenkins, Garwood Leckband, Patrick Lowry, John Lynn, Denman Murray, Darrell Murray, John Petersen, Lyle Schmitt, Stephen Sisulak Jr., Don Skadow, Jerry Soehke, Jerry Stoddard, John Sulzbach, George Tagge, Herbert Vollendorf, Donald Walker, Walter Winchester, Harold Zeidler, Donn Ziebell.

Mrs. H. C. Fricke, former pastor's wife, injured in accident

For the second time in a little over a year Mrs. Harry C. Fricke, wife of Rev. Fricke of Cicero, received serious injuries in an automobile accident.

She sustained a fractured pelvis when their car, driven by her daughter, Harriett, turned over one and a half times following a tire blow out July 20. Rev. Fricke, who was also in the car, and Harriett, received only minor cuts and scratches.

The Frickes were enroute to Minneapolis, Minnesota when the accident occurred just outside of Winona, Minn. Mrs. Fricke was first taken to the Winona General hospital, but is now hospitalized at the Lutheran hospital, Minneapolis.

Rev. Fricke is the former pastor of the St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. He and his wife were in an automobile wreck a little over a year ago, at which time Mrs. Fricke received leg injuries.

Appliance headquarters - exposition of labor saving utilities

Our camera caught Miss Dorothy Morici placing cover over the deep well cooker in the Frigidaire range. Miss Morici had just completed a demonstration of its conveniences for a prospective buyer.

If you like to visit exhibitions and exhibitions to see with your very own eyes what is new in household labor saving devices, you'll thoroughly enjoy paying a visit to the Prospect Heights Appliance store.

You'll find the store a true exposition and you'll be amazed at the large number of utilities on display. You'll see the latest in ranges, refrigerators, washing machines, ironers, clothes dryers and other time savers. You'll enjoy looking at table model radios, electric fans, clocks, toasters, irons and vacuum cleaners. You'll look into deep freezers for both farm and home, see commercial freezers - and if there is a television broadcast you can see this latest of home entertainment features in action.

If you haven't been inside to explore this wonderland of 1948 household necessities, Max Rhodes, the proprietor, extends a cordial invitation to all home makers to visit the display. Inquiry is also invited upon any appliance now being shown.

Rhodes, who resides in Arlington Heights, is a top-notch refrigerator man. During the war he served in the U. S. Navy, specializing in refrigeration, with 22 months overseas. He brought his appliance business to Prospect Heights in January, 1947, operating within the showroom at the service station. Seven months later an expanding business called for more show space and the business was moved across the street to the store block. In November, it was moved again to the familiar "Tea Room" location which offered attractive exhibition possibilities.

His field of sales operation extends throughout the Des Plaines, Wheeling, Palatine, Arlington Heights and Bensenville circle. Satisfied customers within that sales circle have influenced sales at considerable distances. For example, only last week, sales developed as far away from the neighborhood circle as Joliet and Rockford.

Perhaps the chief reason for customer satisfaction lies in the fact that Rhodes, in addition to selling the well advertised products of General Electric, Frigidaire, Bendix, Maytag, Crosley, Universal, etc., handles hard to get freezer supplies and offers a repair service for refrigeration, washing machines, radio and the like. This dual type of service makes purchasing easier for it removes the worry from machine ownership. Another easy purchasing arrangement is made possible through the convenient GMC and GE credit plans.

Either Rhodes or Miss Morici are always on hand at the store to help prospective purchasers with full information on their many types of appliances, and with actual demonstrations where possible. Thursday evenings is an ideal time if you are interested in television.

Threat of Dry Rot

Dry rot is a plant, and once started in wood underneath a house it will creep up, developing large strands of whitish, fungus threads and spread through the first floor joists and studding, often up to and past the second floor. It destroys the strength of the wood and doubles fire hazards. Dry rot cannot grow across properly pressure-treated lumber.

U. S. Consumption

Americans consumed almost 22 billion dollars worth of food, liquor and tobacco in 1940. Alcoholic beverages accounted for 3.6 billion dollars of this total and 1.9 billion was spent for tobacco.

Are YOU Going Thru

CHANGE of LIFE?

causing you to suffer from HOT FLUSHES?

Does the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.) make you suffer from hot flushes, feel so nervous, high-strung, irritable, weak? Then no try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this!

Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such 'middle-age' distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean). It's also a great stomachic tonic! Any drugstore.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—it's itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Pape & Guenther leads Arlington softball with 4-0 record

Pape and Guenther strode into a comfortable lead in the Arlington softball league by virtue of three victories the past week over Riviera, Wheeling, and El Rando. Four wins, no losses, and one tie places them well ahead of four other teams in the second round race who are practically tied for second place. El Rando occupies the cellar position by their loss to Pape and Guenther and to Haseman's.

MACSAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Friday, July 30, Olympic basketball competition will open with more than 20 nations competing in a series which continues until August 13. There is no phase of the Olympics that the United States is expected to dominate in a more one sided manner than basketball. In the 1936 games basketball was played an American runaway. This year basketball will be played under 1936 rules which includes the center jump. This will make the American team, with seven foot Bob Kurland at center, even more formidable.

Phillips 66 Oilers and Kentucky Univ. make up Olympic cage team
 Last spring in the eliminations for picking the U. S. Olympic squad, Kentucky finished on top among the college teams and the Phillips 66 team of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, was top A.A.A. quintet. In the playoff in Madison Square Garden, Phillips won a close decision making Bud Browning, their coach, the director of the Olympic team and Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, his assistant. Men were picked from both of the finalist teams for a majority of the Olympic squad positions with a scattering of stars from other teams.

From the Oilers five men were selected including Bob Kurland, former Oklahoma A & M All American; Jesse Renick, R. C. Pitts; Lew Beck; and Captain Gordon Carpenter. From the Kentucky squad were selected Ralph Beard, Wah Wah Jones, Cliff Barker, Alex Groza, Ken Rollins. Rounding out the 14 man squad are Ray Lupp of NYU, Jackie Robinson of Baylor, Don Barksdale of the Oakland Bittners, and Vince Boryla of the Denver Nuggets. One of the alternates on the squad is Dale Barnstable of Antioch, Ill., who was one of the first seven men on Kentucky's national collegiate champions.

Oilers record is phenomenal
 It is interesting to consider the record of the Phillips 66, an amateur team sponsored by an oil company. The Oilers have won five AAU titles in a row and have won 227 games while losing but 20 in the five year span against the best teams in the nation. Their's is a team of All-Americans averaging six feet five in height. All are employees of the Phillips 66 company, not only as players but also as important parts of the oil company's business with a real future.

Basketball with a permanent business future
 In fact, the president of the company, Kenneth Adams started the team himself back in 1921 when he was only a warehouse clerk, fresh from the University of Kansas cage team. The present vice president, Paul Endacott, was a Kansas All-American under "Phog" Allen. As many as 50 or more top executives with the company got their start in lesser jobs along with playing on the Oiler cage teams. It is claimed that 80% of the men taken in to play basketball and work with the company are still on the payroll in responsible positions. Their policy of parlaying cage skill with a chance for business success has caused such stars as Bob Kurland, the seven foot All-American center, to turn down $15,000 pro offers to play with this amateur team and the business opportunities it offers to the young man of ability. It is one of the most unique

Classic week at Arlington Park, ends racing here

Local racing followers will make the acquaintance of three invaders from the east when Better Self, My Request and Reborn come on the track Saturday for the $90,000 Classic Stakes at Arlington Park. Prospects for a spirited contest have developed now that Trainer Jimmy Jones has stated that time is too short to get Citation ready for this event following the interruption in his work schedule. The field includes eight probable starters, which would bring the gross value of the stake to $90,000. In addition to the above mentioned trio, the issue probably will be accepted by Papa Redbird, Shy Guy, Loujac, Piet and Volcanic.

My Request, who carries the colors of Ben F. Whitaker of Dallas, Texas, comes into the Chicago racing campaign with the prestige which he acquired in winning five stakes this season. He started out with a rush during the early spring, winning both the short and long ends of Jamaica's Experimental Free Handicap (six furlongs and a mile and a sixteenth). In both races he was top weight—122—among the starters. He followed up with a victory in the Wood Memorial, then ran third to Citation and Coaltown in the Kentucky Derby. A few weeks later he followed Coaltown home in Belmont's Swift Stakes. Then he came back to score twice in succession at Aqueduct, winning the Shevlin Stakes and the Dwyer Stakes at a mile and a sixteenth and a mile and a quarter respectively.

My Request, who was foaled at Charles Nuckolls and Sons' Hurstland Farm, Midway, Ky., where Mr. Whitaker keeps his mares, had considerable success last season in his campaign as a two year old. At Belmont he won the Juvenile and National Stallion Stakes; at Saratoga he scored in the United States Hotel and the Grand Union Hotel stakes and at Aqueduct he raced away with the Cowdin Stakes. He was second in the Flash and third in three others—the Hopeful and Champagne stakes and the Remsen Handicap.

Enlists in army

William H. Schwenn, son of Clarence Schwenn of Barrington left Monday for Ft. Knox, Ky., where he will begin his army career. Before enlisting in the Air Corps Bill was employed at the Arlington Seating company, Arlington Heights.

Top golfers compete at Tam O' Shanter for $48,700 and world trophies

A total of $48,700.00 will be given away at Tam O' Shanter Country club during the week of August 3 to 8 to golfers competing in the All-American Golf tournament and the World Championship of Golf.

Many of the big names in golf, among pros and amateurs both men and women, have signed up to compete for these prizes, and the top-notchers will also compete for trophies in the World Championship, according to Sponsor George S. May.

Among those who have indicated their presence in competition are: Sam Sneed, Lloyd Mangrum, Mildred "Babe" Zaharias, "Skee" Riegel, "Skip" Alexander, Grace Lenczyk, Jimmy Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, "Chick" Harbert, Clayton Heafner, Henry Kaiser, Herman Barron, Ed Furgol, Ellsworth Vines, Bill Kaiser, Patty Berg, Peggy Kirk, Mary Agnes Wall, Sally Sessions, "Chick" Evans, John Barrum, Joe Louis, Herman Keiser, Fred Haas, Jr., Smiley Quick, "Buck" White, Mike Turnesa, Chandler Harper, Art Doering, Mike Stolarik, Bob Hamilton, Jimmy Thomson, Jim Foulis, Louis Esposito, and Sam Bernardi. "Every mail brings in new names," says May, "and when the tournaments start we will have the Who's Who of golf on hand."

The prizes offered in the All-Americans total $37,500, divided as follows: Men's Professional, $31,000; Men's Amateur, $2,000 in merchandise; and Women's Open, $4,500.

In the World Championship of Golf, to be played on Saturday and Sunday, August 7 and 8, four fields will play for prizes and trophies, which are in addition to the $37,500.00 being offered to the All-American winners. Men professionals will play for the world's largest golf trophy, an engraved cup standing 42 inches high, and the winner will collect $10,000.00 in cash.

Men amateurs will play for a cup and $100.00 in merchandise. An engraved cup is also offered in the women's professional play and the winner will receive $1,000.00 in cash, while the women amateurs will play for a cup and $100.00 in merchandise. Professional ties will be played off the following Monday, and any ties among amateurs will be played off "sudden death" (hole-by-hole elimination). "Judging from responses we are getting," says Mr. May, "the 8th Annual All-Americans will be the biggest of them all, from the standpoint of top names in the field, number of entries, and interest shown by the public. This is the first year we have included women with the men both pros and amateurs, in the world's championship."

Leaders upset in Arlington golf league

Led by Bob Botterman's gross score of 37, Schiller Carpet took 6½ points from the league leading Bowling Lanes team. Eddie's Liquors moved into second place by trouncing Hartmann's Shoe store 7½-1½. Geo. Kusch shot a 38 to lead his team in defeating Duntemann's Dairy 7½-½. The standings after 13 nights of play are:

Chief Attraction for visitors to Chicago this summer is the spectacular Chicago Railroad Fair, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the opening of the West by rail transportation. Sponsored by America's leading railroads, it opens July 20 and continues through Labor Day.

Only one hundred years ago, a 10-ton, wood-burning engine, bought third-hand from eastern railroads, chugged out of the young city of Chicago, pulling a flatcar loaded with local dignitaries of the day.

This historic 5-mile trip of the "PIONEER" marked the beginning of Chicago's growth to leadership as a center of rail transportation. The Chicago Railroad Fair is a celebration of that growth. Rich with educational exhibits, it enlivens the contributions made by the railroads in the settlement of the country, the development of its economy and the winning of its wars. It pays tribute to Chicago's position as transportation center of the world and accords recognition to its eminence in cultural, educational and industrial achievements. The foremost railroads of the country have prepared fascinating exhibits, including trains from every period of railroad progress, from the old "PIONEER" to the very newest streamliners, including the famous "TRAIN OF TOMORROW".

Visitors to the Fair, conveniently located on the Lake Michigan shore, will sample the travel attractions of every part of the country. A mile-long narrow-gauge railroad transports them to a typical southwest Indian village, past a replica of Old Faithful Geyser in Yellowstone National Park, to beach and Everglades scenes from Florida and through a western dude ranch. Highlight of the Chicago Railroad Fair is a colorfully staged pageant depicting the development of transportation from the birch bark canoes of the Indians to the de luxe trains of the future. More than 200 actors will present this dramatic pageant several times daily on an outdoor stage.

This is one of a series of advertisements on the industrial, agricultural, residential and cultural characteristics of Chicago and Northern Illinois

Arlington youth at Pearl Harbor

A task group of the United States Pacific Fleet arrived at Pearl Harbor last week with 1900 Naval Reserve Officers training corps students from colleges and universities located in all parts of the nation who are taking their annual training cruise. During their ten day stay in this port the embryo naval officers will depart from their usual daily routine of classes and drills to take submarine cruises, visit naval installations and go sightseeing in Hawaii.

Midshipman from Arlington Heights who is aboard the U. S. S. Astoria is Patrick J. Barrett, 512 Banbury street, who is a student at Notre Dame University.

Several other young men from this area are scattered among the contingents on other vessels. Approximately fifty student officers from each educational institution which has a NROTC program make up the total.

The naval task group consists of one battleship and three cruisers. The force sailed from San Francisco on June 26 and since that time has visited Seattle, Washington, and Long Beach, California. After a ten day stay at Pearl Harbor the force will sail for San Diego engaging in amphibious operations and other maneuvers enroute and the cruise will end at San Francisco August 21.

This cruise is strictly a training mission which has as its objective giving the student officers actual shipboard experience in their class work and operating men-of-war without interrupting their class work and drills.

This Week in Wheeling

All girls over 15 years of age who are interested in playing softball are invited to assemble at the Wheeling school baseball diamond on Thursday evening July 29 at 7 p.m. Although most of the ball season is past, the girls have decided to do some practicing with a view of getting a team organized early in the season next spring.

Miss Mary Gloden has been visiting with her aunt at Lake Zurich, where she has been helping take care of a brand new little cousin.

About forty persons enjoyed the Our Town Club picnic held at Deer Grove on Sunday afternoon. Besides playing peek-a-bow with the showers, there was baseball, horse-shoe and cards to keep everyone entertained, and appetites were keen by the time picnic baskets were unloaded at 5 p.m.

200 sons of vets guests of Legion club at boys' camp

Two hundred youngsters, sons of veterans from all sections of the city, will be guests this summer at the boys' camp near Coloma, Wis., maintained by the past commanders club of the American Legion. The boys are sponsored by Cook county posts of the legion. Thirty-one of 40 boys now guests at the camp were assigned by the Cook County Veterans' Assistance Bureau.

"The boys are sent to camp in groups of from 30 to 40 for a 12-day vacation," said Stanley Van Dyk, general chairman of the club's project. "The camp is supported by contributions of members and their friends."

George Von Bremmer, football coach at Lindbloom high school, has been installed as camp director. Among sports activities on the camp program are baseball, basketball, tennis, swimming, fishing and hikes. Crafts are also fostered. One adult counselor is assigned for every eight boys, Van Dyk said.

The Ladies 500 club met at the home of Mrs. Josie Proesel last week. Guest players were Mrs. Ted Bartmann, Mary Clesen, Loretta Goettsche and Mrs. Henry Grandt. Alice Utpadel scored high. Ellen Fassbender, second and Susan Bellmore won the consolation prize.

With the greatest building activities ever experienced in Wheeling, many new families are coming to our community. One of the aims of our town club is to help newcomers to become acquainted and to feel at home. You can help them by calling the chairman of the hospitality committee, Mrs. John Sicks, when you have a new neighbor, or know of a stranger to welcome.

Members of Wheeling Camp Royal Neighbors are looking forward to their annual family picnic to be held at Gages Lake next Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wolf, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Paul Durbell, went to Winona, Minn., last Friday, traveling via the Hiawatha. On Monday they planned to share in the 91st birthday celebration for Mrs. Wolf's aunt whose home is in Winona.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse attended the American Nurseryman's Convention which met at Milwaukee last week.

Nat's Methodist youth hold evangelism school at Methodist camp ground

Under the direction of four religious leaders of the Methodist church, Methodist Youth of high school and college age coming from the north central jurisdiction of that denomination are engaged in a school of evangelism at the Methodist Camp Ground, Des Plaines, in which is included religious survey and visitation work among communities of Chicago and suburban and rural areas.

The school is a part of a movement within the Methodist church which is currently occurring across the country. The object is three-fold: to train young people interested in a life work for the church; to obtain a survey of religious standings and influences in communities; and to attempt to lead persons into a more devoted attitude toward the church and its ideal.

One team of three girls and one boy recently took on a rural charge in the Rockford, Illinois, district and in one evening they visited 35 homes in a community of 300 people to observe, mainly, the church affiliation of the respective families.

Another team made up of eight boys and girls were sent to a new housing section of the Franklin Park area where they made 549 calls in one day. In this area, there was a cooperative leadership of the Methodist, Lutheran, and Evangelical Reformed churches for the young people.

Another team of three young people was assigned to a trailer camp of 300 trailer families, covering almost 100 of these in an evening, they, too, sought statistics on the religious inclination of the dwellers.

N. U. medical team on polio assistance call

One of only four in the nation, the Northwestern University medical school's poliomyelitis team is on call to aid polio-stricken communities anywhere in the United States.

Headed by Dr. Emil D. W. Hauser, assistant professor of bone and joint surgery, and one of the nation's leading orthopedists, the crew is assigned to duty and its expenses paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Functions of the team include medical consultation to doctors of the community; teaching local hospital nurses bed posture for patients and the administration of hot packs; and instruction in physical therapy techniques of muscle re-education, and general functional exercises. The crew is prepared to stay on duty up to six weeks until its work in organization, teaching, and medical assistance is completed. After that, the assistant orthopedist in the team remains in the stricken community as long as he is needed.

Schaumburg farms give nod to scientific farming

Schaumburg farmers are up-to-date and "will continue in the lead as successful money-makers."

Several of them are reading and profiting from the experience of farm and dairy experiment stations. H. W. Freise and Fred Pfingsten are improving their herds by using thoroughbred Holtzheim-Friesian cattle and raising alfalfa clover hay.

Pfingsten cut his first crop of alfalfa June 19 and a second crop July 20. He says the horses will throw all other hay aside to get alfalfa. He has sent to Washington for germs to inoculate his seed and build up his soil to the highest productive state. Scientific farming yields the biggest products, according to these Schaumburg farmers.

Attend camp meeting at Des Plaines

Among Arlington Heights people who went to Des Plaines camp meeting Sunday were Messrs and Mesdames D. K. Draper, H. B. Perry, J. J. Dietrich, Walter Abbs; Mesdames Nellie Best, Noyes, Chas. Sigwalt, J. Kennicott, J. P. Hausam, Hamlin, Lester Allison and family, and Mrs. Carrie Hilton and family and James Ford.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

For those of us whose main interest in bird watching is the migration, business is definitely picking up by the first of August. By this time the shore birds are here in numbers on their flight to the south, and we can spend more time with them and give them closer study than we can in the spring when all the other birds are coming through too. And close study with a pair of glasses and a good bird book are necessary to identify one from the other. We use Peterson's "Field Guide to the Birds" which can be borrowed from the Arlington Heights public library. Any water hole with undisturbed mud banks or flats should produce it's share of birds.

This August first (1947) Cornelia, the boys and I met friends at Elk Grove toward evening.

Farmers wanted

Three thousand practical farmers, who would like to own homes of their own, learned this week the government has nearly 200,000 acres of land lying under various irrigation projects throughout the West, for which water will be available next season.

The farm unit on these projects varies from 40 to 80 acres of irrigable land, depending on location. The only charge for these lands, besides the regular land office fee for filing, is the actual cost of getting water to them, and payment may be made in ten annual installments, without interest.

These irrigation projects are scattered over the entire arid region from Canada to the Mexican lines. In consequence, every variety of crop grown in the temperate zone can be grown there. If you would like a fruit or dairy farm, or a garden for market trucking, write to Statistician of U. S. Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., for particulars.

Change election precincts in Palatine

The election precincts of Palatine have been changed. Precinct No. 1 comprises all territory north of Slade street. Precinct No. 2, all south of that thoroughfare. Polling places will be in Huennenberg's and the village hall.

This move came as a surprise to most members of the Republican club, the members of whom are making surmises as to the reason whereof. As Slade street does not extend through the township, the old division seems better, but then it is not for the common people to know the secrets of politicians, and the whys and wherefores.

E. A. H. Warnecke is giving George Franzen's house a fresh coat of paint.

Fred Mess has torn down his old barn and built a new one farther back from Grant street.

Louis Beil called on Dr. Bartells at Elgin June 27 and reports him a very entertaining host.

Elmer and Arthur Teideman of Mannheim visited their grandpa Teideman Tuesday afternoon.

A. W. Franzen was sick a few days this week with a touch of appendicitis, but is around again. Dr. Riggins pulled him through without an operation.

W. Koebelman and F. Warnecke visited J. C. Geils at Oak Park hospital on the Fourth and report him getting along nicely. We hope John will soon be amongst us again.

Two Bensenville residents injured in wagon, street car collision

Henry Duntzman and his nephew were on the road to Chicago with a load of potatoes Friday morning, and had the misfortune to have a street car collide with their wagon.

Henry escaped with a slight skin injury to his left arm, while his nephew was hurled in the ditch with the wagon and suffered severe injuries. He was taken to a hospital.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

IT STILL HAPPENS

We've mentioned at various times that the unusual in baseball can be seen when the Arlington Heights Redwings play at Recreation park.

Five home runs, three of them in the first inning, Arlington scoring in all but two innings, and the base umpire pacing every home run hitter around the bases, giving a grand flourish with his arm to designate, we suppose, that the runner had made the trip safely. All these things occurred in that game.

Then to top the whole show daddy Joe Vrba, catching for the firemen, and formerly with the Redwings, was up in the ninth. There were two outs, two men on base, and two runs needed by the firemen to tie the score.

Joe got one strike and then dodged a ball that almost hit him in the head. "Strike two," bawled the umpire, and chubby Joe bounced around and protested so vociferously that the umpire tossed him out of the game.

The firemen had no one to finish out Joe's batting job, so the game was forfeited to the Redwings. What a game and what a finish. That one, coupled with everything that's gone before in this season, leads us to wonder if the boys can dig up anything else to surprise and entertain the fans.

It seems that we've seen everything that baseball can furnish, but who can tell? They may dig a fresh one out of the trick bag at any game.

OATS OSWALD

Freddie Oswald has a new nickname — it's Oats.

Since Fred got into that argument about Ed Haseman not being able to raise 70 bushels of oats to an acre, it seems he's been learning something about oats.

The other day he talked to an experienced farmer who said 90 or even 100 bushels of oats was not an unusual yield. That startled Fred and now he's admitting maybe he'd better stick to the engineering game and not burst into an unknown field, especially in an oats field.

But anyway, the boys are having lots of fun on the oat argument and are waiting for Eddie to combine the field to see what the yield really will be. And by the way, we expect to release some figures on the grain fields we've seen as soon as the harvest is in.

PINK APHIS

A lot of gardeners especially gardeners close to the city have been having an awful time this year with Aphis.

The main crop of Aphis seems to be pink ones but there are also green and black ones and they have been particularly thick on tomato plants, sucking the life out of the plants in many gardens.

Gardeners have gone after them with "black leaf 40" soap suds and other sprays and are getting them under control but this changeable season seems to have been just the sort of breeding weather the Aphis or plant lice needed this year and they have been thick and pestiferous in many gardens both in the city and suburbs.

STOVE READY

Some of the boys were perched out on one of those benches the other day when Mrs. Brendell, the lady who runs that big antique shop out on Rand road came along.

She'd seen the remark of one of the boys that if he only had one of those old blast stoves and a sawdust fitted box for a garden.

NEW RECORD

The parking meter take last week set a new all time high when $137.14 was taken out of the machines, much to the delight of officer Meyer who nurses those things along like a parent caring for a growing child.

Those meters are George's pride and joy and he watches those pennies and nickels roll out of that counting machine every Friday morning with an eagle eye, praying that each week's count will be better than the week before.

PLAN COMMISSION

Next Tuesday evening Palatine citizens will have the opportunity to meet with the idea of planning the organization of a plan commission.

All churches, schools and organizations have been invited to send representatives to a meeting at the village hall at 8 p.m.

It is hoped that every organization will be represented. Important things are ahead in Palatine's growth in future years and the direction of that growth and the kind of a community this is to be depends upon action that is taken now.

It is hoped that the civic leaders of the community will rally behind this movement for the formation of an active, working plan commission.

HE SHOWED UP

Just as we thought, our old friend North Chrisman from Iowa, veteran horseman, just couldn't resist the lure of Arlington Park.

We walked into Schoppe's store one morning last week and there he was back in the corner reading the racing form, the first one he'd seen since last summer's visit to Arlington.

Mr. Chrisman is having a great time at the races; going out early in the morning to watch the workouts and renew old friendships made years ago when he was an active Campaigner over the tracks of the country.

CLASSIC WEEK

This is Classic week at Arlington Park and the running of the famous Arlington Classic will wind up another great race meeting.

Arlington has long been known as the graveyard of champions and the public is watching with great interest to see if Citation the great champion of the Calumet Farms, can break the jinx that always seems to follow champions into the Classic.

Many outstanding champs have hit the dust at Arlington in the classic and next Saturday's big race will be watched with interest to see if history will repeat and if the great Citation can break the jinx.

It will be a great racing day and a great climax to another outstanding meeting staged by the Arlington Park Jockey club.

Thy Word

Grace Nell Crowell

AS THE wild things store their food for winter hour,
Thou, Lord, I have hid thy word within my heart,
To draw upon for food, for strength and power
When the winds blow cold and darkness is a part
Of daily living, I have safely stored
Thy word, dear Lord, a precious golden hoard.

So radiantly it glows within my breast,
It is like firelight, like candleshine.
I share it with the hungry and oppressed,
I give it out, and still thy word is mine.
I should be as a beggar in my need
Had I not hid this food on which to feed.

JULY WANING

Soon in midsummer we may turn the page. Then will you tell us, poet or sage, What has become of our Lady July? Search as we will, we may never espy Where she is hiding, what path she took; A cardinal flower lighting this nook? O, that was her candle for just one night, Forgotten here, so swift was her flight. Would the pool's gold ripples be a trace? Only to tell that it mirrored her face. Follow her, follow her, still she'll elude; Where she reigns today we may not intrude. S'Amuser.

Brides to be

Camp Reinberg offers country - life vacation to dependent city children

Having a ride "on burro time" are two youngsters (top picture) at Camp Reinberg, near Palatine, who were allowed to postpone their afternoon siesta long enough to get acquainted with the two newest acquisitions to camp fixtures.

The boys are from one of the eleven settlement organizations from Chicago which have been using Camp Reinberg facilities for the past three years to give city children a taste of country living. Before camp management was assumed by the Camp Reinberg association, it was operated by Cook county bureau of public welfare for its relief wards.

"ONE OF OUR main objects is to give camping experience to groups of children and leaders who work with them through the year, who understand the children's problems best, and who can help them make the most of a new setting," Dorthea Chant, camp director, explained.

These children (center picture) are "initiating" the long-handled frying pans they made in one of the handicraft classes. Earl McCoy (far left) camp craft counselor, supervises the cook-out.

The camp handles 96 children at one time, between the ages of 8 and 14, who commune with nature for a 12-day summer stay.

EACH GROUP of 32 children has five counselors who, like Levy Irving (counselor at right in lower picture) are acquiring field experience in social work. Irving, volunteer counselor, from Near West Side Interracial Council in Chicago, is shown preparing to count the number of clean ears among his charges.

"One-third of the children during each of the five camp sessions are ADC (aid to dependent children) wards of the Cook county welfare department," Miss Chant stated, "and are the most needy of our campers."

The 1948 season, consisting of 5 12-day periods, began June 25 and will end September 4. The Camp Reinberg association, a private group, gets approximately half its financial support from the eleven agencies using the Palatine area facilities, but is dependent on other contributions for maintenance.

Mark Twain's Mistake

When Mark Twain was at the height of his fame, he was approached one day by an inventor who offered Twain an interest in his product for a mere $500. Because he had had bad luck in that type of transaction before, Twain turned the offer down. The man's name turned out to be Alexander Graham Bell.

Northbrook news

Emily Therrien
Phone Northbrook 78

We're glad to report Mrs. Wm. Griese, mother of Northbrook's mayor, is improving rapidly although still confined to her room. Her visitors last week included Mrs. Henry Scholz and daughter, Mrs. Rith Nehke, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Meintzer of Highland Park, and Miss Emma Weber of Northbrook.

Al Kronn is still in Presbyterian hospital getting along as well as can be expected. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce left on July 22 for a trip to Summit Lake, Wisc., with their sons Dennis and Gerald. They also went to camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan, Wis., to visit their son Thurman.

Home Bureau and 4-H club achievement day will be at the youth center Monday, August 2, at 1:30 p.m. The public is invited to the exhibition of junior and senior projects. The home bureau will meet there the same day. Refreshments will be served.

The ice cream social held at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Snelton last Saturday was a big success. It was held for the benefit of the building fund for the new Catholic church.

The seven girls of the 4-H club returned from Camp Rotary at Rockford. They are Coralee Zender, Nancy Gruelich, Sally Falasco, Charlotte Strassburger, Marilyn Weinberg, Karen Hyett and Linda Koerber. They were at camp for three days.

Karen, Linda and Kathy Langhi, of St. Louis, Mo., are the house guests of their grandparents, the P. L. Happs, for the next several weeks. Mr. Langhi, who was here for several days, has returned home.

We're sorry to report Mrs. Phillip Doetsch, of Wheeling, is very ill. She is a member of St. Norbert Thursday Thimble club. Her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Miss Joseph Retzinger was hostess to the 500 card club Tuesday. Card honors went to Mrs. Prosel and Mrs. Retzinger.

Miss Lucy Brachtendorf was hostess to her mission last week.

Miss Irene Happ has returned from a two-week trip to Tumblering River, Colorado, and several days visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Watters, in Saginaw, Mich.

Mrs. Henrietta Rugen, wife of the late George Rugen, celebrated her 90th birthday with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren last Sunday. Sixty persons attended the party at Northbrook youth center. Mrs. Rugen was born in Jefferson Park. She received many gifts, cards and three corsages. Her many friends wish her much happiness. Among relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson and daughter Ruth from Port Arthur, Texas, and Mrs. Rugen's sister, Mrs. Anna Bernhardt, of Glenview.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt P. Happ were host and hostess at the Happ reunion at their home on Waukegan road Sunday, July 25. Among the 85 celebrants were Mr. and Mrs. John Demuth and son Junior, of Des Plaines; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Beckman and children Joyce, Bobby, Marilyn and Dennis; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schneider and son Billy; Mr. and Mrs. James Happ and sons Jimmie and Frankie, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Happ and daughter Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Malin and son Donnie; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Happ and Irene; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Happ; Mr. and Mrs. George Happ and sons George and Kenny and daughter Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Will Selzer, of Crystal Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raycraft and Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Selzer and Patsy, Beverly, Shirley and twins Joyce and Judy; Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Day and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Selzer are traveling to Los Angeles to visit their son Richard and daughter Elenore.

The John Bachar family, on Walter avenue, had as Sunday guests Mrs. Machar's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sedleck, of Berwyn.

RING WORM OF THE SCALP

Ring worm of the scalp is a common fungus infection which occurs most commonly in children and is highly contagious. In the majority of cases this type of ring worm begins in one or more patches in which the hairs appear to be nibbled off just above the skin. These patches gradually enlarge and join each other, sometimes involving the entire scalp. The patch has a grayish appearance due to the presence of fine scales. There may occasionally be some itching, but in general there are few symptoms. It is a remarkable, and as yet little understood, phenomenon that this disease disappears spontaneously at the age of puberty. Permanent baldness does not result from this type of ring worm.

A few instances of ring worm are most, in contrast to the ordinary type, and we call this kerion. This variety is usually contracted from animals and is accompanied by swelling of the scalp, enlarged glands and permanent scarring with baldness. The diagnosis in questionable cases may easily be made by means of filtered ultra-violet light. When exposed to this type of light ring worm fluoresces a brilliant green and is unmistakable. The majority of cases respond well to the application of a local ointment. However, stubborn infections call for x-ray treatment. This measure produces a temporary loss of hair and gradual removal of the fungus growth.

Because of the contagiousness of this condition certain measures should be undertaken in order to prevent an epidemic of scalp ring worm.

1. Children with the infection should be kept out of school and away from other children until cured.
2. Treatment should be supervised by a physician familiar with these problems.
3. Reinfection from contaminated hats and clothing should be prevented by burning all the infected articles following treatment.
4. Barbers should be on the lookout for sores of the scalp and refer children with these lesions for treatment.
5. Clipping of the hair prior to treatment should be done at home or in the clinic. The infected child should not be taken to a barber.
6. Periodic examination with the filtered ultra-violet light of children in schools and other institutions should be carried out periodically in order to prevent the beginnings of an epidemic.

These simple rules may be easily carried out and, if accomplished, this very common children's annoyance could be made non-existent.

Modern Etiquette

by Roberta Lee

Q. What expenses of a wedding are borne by the family of the bride?

A. The trousseau, personal attire, invitations and announcements, decorations for the church or home, music, conveyances for the bridal party, the bride's gifts to her bridesmaids, their bouquets, and any entertainment that allows the ceremony.

Q. Should a woman who is traveling alone and registering at a hotel always use the prefix "Miss" or "Mrs."?

A. Yes, always.

Q. When a girl is preceding her escort and comes to a door, would it be correct for her to open it?

A. No; she should stand to one side and allow her escort to open the door and hold it wide for her to pass through.

Q. Is it permissible to refuse some certain dish at a luncheon?

A. No; as a luncheon usually consists of just a few dishes, it would not be considerate to refuse any. It can be done occasionally at a large dinner where there is a great variety of dishes.

Q. If a "bread and butter" letter is being written, should it be addressed to the girl one has been visiting, or to her mother?

A. It should be a joint letter, addressed to both, or a separate one to each.

Q. How long should a hostess, who is giving a large dinner, wait for a guest who is late?

A. No longer than fifteen or twenty minutes beyond the time specified.

Q. Should one take a gift when invited to a house-warming?

A. Yes; the gift may be chosen in accordance with one's friendship with the host and hostess, and of course within the limits of one's purse.

Q. Would it be correct for a widower who is marrying for a second time to have a best man?

A. Yes; and if necessary, ushers may be added.

Q. If one has unintentionally done something discourteous towards another person, would it be correct to say, "Excuse me?"

A. No; "pardon me" is the correct phrase. "Excuse me" is used only when one is asking permission to leave the room, or go somewhere.

Q. Should a letter of introduction be sealed?

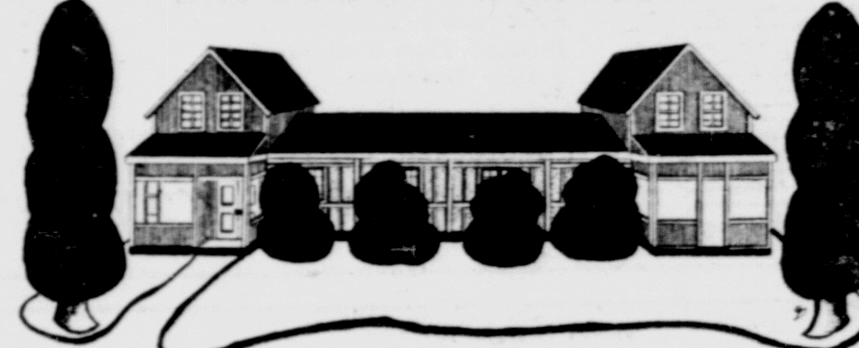

A. No.

Tropical water lilies blooming at Garfield and Douglas parks

Tranquil tropical water lilies, in multitudes of rare hybrid varieties that represent the largest collection in this county, will be seen floating in the famous twin pools in Garfield Park, Madison street and Central Park ave., starting about August 1 and lasting until the first frost in October.

Similarly, at Douglas Park, 14th st. and Albany ave., directly south of Ogden ave., a collection of day blooming and night blooming water lilies of many colors will thrill thousands of spectators who visit the botanical ponds annually, according to William C. Blasberg.

During the winter, these tropical water lilies receive careful scientific care in park district propagating houses where new plants are raised each year. The young tubers are grown in individual pots and kept in green-house pools where water temperature starts at 90 degrees and gradually is lowered to 65 degrees as the tubers mature.

After June 8, depending upon weather conditions, the plants are taken outdoors and are transplanted individually in submerged, earth-filled boxes, 3 feet square and 18 inches deep. The plants have strong stems and blossoms stand several feet above the water. When in full bloom, the vari-colored blossoms of the tropical plants are often a foot in diameter.

Both Garfield and Douglas Parks have the day blooming varieties which open soon after sunrise and close at sundown. Night blooming blossoms open at about 10 p. m. and close at daybreak. On cloudy days, however, these night bloomers will remain open for several hours of daylight, sometimes as late as 10 a. m.

The Chicago Park District outdoor garden displays are open free to the public at all times.

Two more weeks of Grant Park concerts

The thrilling and inspiring music of the masters, familiar and beloved operatic selections and symphonic works will be played by the Grant Park Symphony Orchestra during the seventh week of the series, August 4 through August 8, of park district sponsored concerts on the lakefront.

Nicolaï Malko, resident Chicago conductor, will be back on the podium for the concert of Wednesday, August 4, when the major orchestral work will be "Ibent's Novel 'Divertissement.'" Soloist that evening will be the lovely Metropolitan Grand Opera star, Mena Paulee; her brilliant mezzo soprano voice has also thrilled large concert audiences and thousands of radio listeners. Miss Paulee will stay over for the Friday evening, August 6 concert, again under Maestro Malko's direction when the orchestra will be featured in the Classical Symphony by Prokofiev.

Leo Kopp, noted Chicago conductor, will make his first 1948 Grant Park appearance on Saturday, August 7. He will present, in concert form, the complete musical score of Strauss' light opera, "Die Fledermaus." Stellar roles will be sung by Marguerite Piazza, star of operas in the United States and Canada and known to Chicagoans for her appearance here in opera and operetta; Graciela Rivera, another young opera, operetta and concert singer; and Ernest McChesney, opera, concert and radio artist, who is remembered for his singing of the leading tenor role in "The Chocolate Soldier."

A repeat performance of "Die Fledermaus" will be given Sunday evening, August 8th. All Grant Park concerts start at 8 p. m. and are free. Only one week more of these outdoor concerts remains with concerts on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, August 11, 13 and 15.

How to cut costs, insure oil supply disclosed by expert

Experts have discovered how home owners can save money on their heating oil bills and insure an adequate supply for next winter even if there is a national oil shortage as some authorities predict.

"Periodic surveys have demonstrated that domestic oil burner installations are operating at 50 to 60 percent overall efficiency," Walter Timmis, noted heating engineer writes in the August issue of House Beautiful magazine. "They are capable of operating from 70 to 80 percent overall efficiency. Therefore there are potential savings of from 15 to 30 percent. The other day I found and corrected an installation that was burning three times what it should have."

Insulation and weather-stripping are, of course the best ways to reduce heat loss and thus cut down your fuel bills, the writer points out, but there are two other important factors that enter the picture.

A great cause of excessive oil consumption is heat loss up the chimney brought about by leakage of basement air into the combustion chamber, the article declares. This can be detected by the use of an instrument called an "orsat."

"The leaks should then be stopped with furnace and refractory cement," the article states. "In the average size house this will cost from ten to fifteen dollars. Some oil burner men attempt to adjust the burner by the 'color of the flame.' This is a delusion and a snare. It affords no means whatsoever for detecting air leakage. The only way to do it is to make sure there are no air leaks and then adjust the burner for the highest possible CO2 with no visible smoke from the flame."

Third major cause of heat loss is an unbalanced heating system, according to the article, which lists some of the things that can be done to correct this condition. "For one pipe system install balancing air valves on the radiators," the article advises. "Correct trapped piping—piping that slants the wrong way or does not slant enough the right way. Install vent valves with large ports on ends of steam mains so that the steam can flow readily to the remote parts of the system."

"For two pipe systems install an orifice plate in the union in each radiator inlet valve with the orifice sized for the capacity of the radiator on which it is installed. Correct trapped piping."

"For hot water systems install a balancing elbow on the return connection of each radiator. If you have a gravity system a booster pump will improve circulation."

"For warm air systems, try adjusting dampers, cutting down on air flow to rooms easy to heat and opening up the flow to rooms hard to heat. If you do not have dampers they can be installed."

Oil fuel consumption can be reduced by as much as fifty percent according to the writer who states: "We may as well make up our minds that the automatic fuels, oil and gas, are going to be in short supply. Our natural resources have seemingly been so vast and limitless that we have tended to be profligate. The time has come for us to practise frugality. It is a shame not to do it when we have the means and the know-how to reduce our fuel consumption by as much as fifty percent."

International president of Lions clubs

Eugene S. Briggs, Enid, Oklahoma, is the new president of the International Association of Lions Clubs. He was elected by unanimous vote at the 31st annual convention of the association which closed in New York Thursday, July 29. Briggs succeeds Fred W. Smith, of Ventura, California.

The convention concluded one of the most successful years in the history of Lions International, according to the report made by the secretary-general and founder of the association, Melvin Jones, of Chicago. He reported the formation of 819 new Lions clubs and the addition of 31,696 men to the roster of the association in the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1948, for a total of 6,808 clubs and 358,144 members. He stated also that during the year Lions clubs were established in four additional countries: Sweden, Switzerland, Chile and Newfoundland. Lions International, he added, is now the largest, strongest and most active service club organization in the world, with Lions clubs in 23 countries on five continents.

Briggs, in accepting the presidency, said: "Peace is the number one problem of today. It is the first obligation against our efforts and resources. It is the primary obligation of our generation. Since Lions International is vitally interested in every constructive movement for world peace and good will around the world, it shall be our unwavering purpose to see to it that well-qualified representatives of our organization attend all meetings of specialized agencies of the United Nations, such as UN ESCO, if it appears that we can be of service in charting a way to better international understanding."

Duck Depletion
Sale of duck stamps increased from 1,380,000 in 1942 to 2,000,000 in 1946; and during that same period ducks decreased from an estimated 120 million to 55 million.

Young Legionnaires asked to attend Chicago convention

Chicago Arena, Erie St. and McClurg Ct., will house the business sessions of the American Legion's 30th annual state convention September 10-13.

Although the building can seat 7,000, it is expected to be jammed for the three main business meetings. Five thousand Legion delegates and alternates from all corners of Illinois will attend, with an additional 100,000 Legion visitors anticipated here daily for the four convention days.

Special notices will be sent to commanders of the state's 1,128 Legion posts, inviting younger members of the Legion to attend the business sessions and familiarize themselves with convention proceedings.

"These men will be the leaders of the Legion tomorrow," Douglass D. Getchell, state commander asserted, "and we will make every effort to see that those who are not delegates are able to see the convention in action."

LAW on the FARM

The Powers and Duties of Drainage Commissioners: It may be stated generally that drainage commissioners have the power and authority—and the duty—to do all things necessary for the accomplishment of the purposes of the law. On the other hand, their functions are specifically prescribed by law and are strictly construed. Under the Levee Act, commissioners have among others, these powers and duties:

1. To go upon the land, employ necessary assistance and adopt a system or plan of drainage or flood protection.
2. To obtain the necessary right of way by agreement, or if necessary by use of the eminent domain procedure.
3. In the corporate name of the district they may enter into contracts, sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded and do "all such acts and things as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the purpose of this act."
4. To carry out specific provisions of the law relative to the making of various types of assessments, employment of a treasurer, employment of an assistance, annexation of lands, borrowing funds, enforcing the payment of assessments, consolidations, dissolutions.
5. To let contracts for "the surveying, laying, constructing, repairing, altering, enlarging, cleaning, protecting and maintaining of any drain, ditch, levee or other work." Contracts must be let by bid if the work to be done is the construction of the principal work and the cost is more than $500 dollars.
6. To compromise suits and controversies and employ necessary agents and attorneys.

7. To borrow money up to ninety percent of assessments unpaid at the time, for the payment of any authorized debts or construction.

8. To make annual or more frequent reports as required by the county court.

9. To conduct meetings in the county or counties in which the district is located. They are entitled to five dollars per day and necessary travel expense.

10. To provide suitable books for the keeping of the assessment records and drainage record.

11. To hold meetings in the county or counties in which the district is located on the first Tuesday in March, May, July and September of each year, or oftener if necessary.

12. To sell or lease any land owned by the district.

13. To own and operate a dredge boat.

14. To widen, straighten, deepen or enlarge any ditch or watercourse, to remove driftwood and rubbish whether the ditch is in, outside of, or below the district.

15. To cause railroad companies to construct, rebuild or enlarge bridges or culverts when necessary.

America's most beautiful 'Lactress' is in Chicago

Elsie, the cow is there. She, her bull calf son, Beauregard, and their attendants have disembarked from a special Railway Express car for a 15-day stay at the Railroad Fair. They'll meet local residents daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p.m. at the Railway Express exhibit just north of the main entrance at 23rd st.

No ordinary Pullman accommodations would be adequate for Elsie and Beauregard. There was little room to spare in their own private de luxe car, what with the two-ton nursery-boudoir, the furnishings, staff and special bovine foods.

The boudoir is barn-colonial in decor. The walls are decorated with oil portraits of relatives, including Cousin Bartholomew, a sergeant in World War II; Uncle Bosworth, who was with Dewey at Manila; Great Aunt Bess in bridal costume; Husband Elmer in a natty homburg; and Beauregard lying on a rug, in duds.

Elsie's own four-poster bed and the windows are draped in green and red corn-silk taffeta, a basic motif of the boudoir. There are a cow-size wheel barrow chaise longue, and milk bottle lamps. Above her dressing table hangs a sampler, done by Elsie's own little hooves. It says: "Elsie is a Good Girl."

There is a churn lamp, a barrel chair, and an end table with some of Elsie's newest books. Among them: "How to Live on 5,000 Quarts a Year," "Animal Husbandry and Wifery," and "Bullivers Travels." For the baby there's a colorful edition of "The Adventures of Supercalf."

Since the birth of Beauregard (subject of a nationwide $25,000 naming contest last year), the boudoir has given up much of its adult femininity. There's a playpen for the youngster in which he snoozes, pushes a plastic ball about and gambols, lamb-like. He eats periodically from a nipple nursing bottle. His calf go-cart is handy, for stroller time, and there's a hanging scale where he is weighed periodically. Nursery jars on the bookcase provide Beauregard with Horn Grover, Nose Ring Polish and Anti-Tic-Talc.

Fewer hogs, more corn, better profits

If you are planning to get rid of Bessie—that old brood sow in the south lot—maybe you'd better reconsider.

With fewer hogs and more corn in prospect for next winter, Illinois hog producers will be in a more favorable position to make a profit than they have been during the past year.

This prediction comes from L. F. Stice, who is an extension economist in marketing with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Stice says that markets and weather have united to make the possibility of fewer hogs and more corn a good probability—and he suggests this four-point program for Illinois hog producers.

1. Keep your bred sows.
2. Delay the time of marketing for late spring pigs and those farrowed this summer by keeping them on legume pasture and feeding a minimum amount of grain until new corn is available.
3. Take good care of sows bred for fall pigs—and raise a maximum number of pigs per litter.
4. Plan to maintain or increase moderately the number of sows to farrow 1949 spring pigs.

Demand for farm products will remain strong

Farmers have a special concern about the ability and willingness of consumers to buy.

And L. H. Simerl, who is an extension economist with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that studies in buying trends help us to make a better estimate of future business conditions.

Sometimes consumers spend money freely. At other times they tighten up. When they spend freely, business is stimulated and prices go up. When spending tightens up, it promotes unemployment and lower prices.

The Federal Reserve Board has just published results of a survey on this subject. The report contains these six conclusions:

1. Most families have less savings than they did two years ago. However, two-thirds of them still have sizable savings they can use.
2. People plan to buy more cars, houses and other durable consumer goods in 1948 than can be produced this year.
3. More items are being bought on credit than last year, but consumers are still making many purchases with money they have saved.
4. Veterans provide about one-half of the demand for new houses. No slackening in demand from veterans for mortgage credit can be anticipated.
5. Consumers will continue for some time to use large amounts of credit to purchase houses and other durable consumer goods.
6. About one-fourth of the families are spending considerably more than they are making. The other three-fourths are breaking even or making more than they spend.

Simerl says that all of these factors are now combined to support a high level of industrial activity and to maintain a strong demand for farm products.

Immediate grasshopper control urged

Grasshoppers this year are thicker than honey bees in a clover field.

In fact, the hoppers are stripping many clover and alfalfa fields of new growth almost as fast as it appears.

This word comes from George C. Decker, who is an entomologist with the Illinois Natural History Survey.

During the long open fall last year, hoppers laid large numbers of eggs which came through the winter in good shape.

The drought during early June made the survival rate of newly hatched hoppers unusually high.

To combat these pests, Decker suggests using chlordane or toxaphene sprays. Your farm adviser can give you detailed information on how to prepare and apply these spray mixtures.

The time to spray is right now, Decker emphasizes—because the hoppers are still concentrated in the areas where they hatched. Get 'em there before they spread all over the farm, he urges.

Work-study plan available to students at Evanston college

Students attending the Evanston Township Community college, under its work-study plan get the jump on regular college students in that they graduate with knowledge as well as practical experience.

This novel situation was announced today by Dr. William R. Wood, director of the Community college.

The work-study plan, explained Dr. Wood, calls for a maximum of 30 hours part-time work each week in addition to the courses taken at the college.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE
 student can select one of the 400-odd jobs available in the Evanston Industrial area. Many of these jobs, Dr. Wood said, tie in with the course of study selected by the student. Pay for the jobs ranges from .75 to .95 per hour, according to Dr. Wood.

Many of the employers in the Evanston area, are anxious to get Community college students whom they can train in their particular business. After graduation, continued Dr. Wood, the student may stay on in a full-time capacity at his former part-time job.

However, should the student decide to continue with his education, he may transfer his credits earned at Community to any other college of his choice, declared Dr. Wood.

TESTS for admission to the college will be held at 8:00 a. m. Tuesday, August 3, in Room 324 at the Evanston Township High School, under the supervision of Dr. Paul A. Young, Director of Guidance and E. M. Curry, Director of Admissions.

Admission is not restricted to residents of Evanston. Any Illinois residents is eligible to attend Evanston Community college.

Studies at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture show that new growth on alfalfa pasture is more valuable as a source of important nutrients than the mature plants.

Even though there isn't enough growth to warrant taking off a hay crop, it will pay to clip the field.

Auto, motorcycle and harness races highlight Wisconsin centennial Aug 7-29

Twenty-two afternoons of speedway activity on the fastest one-mile dirt track in America, with an AAA national championship 200-mile auto race as the climax, will provide an entertainment highlight of the Wisconsin Centennial Exposition at State Fair park, Milwaukee, Aug. 7-29.

BIG CARS, midgets, hot rods and stock cars will participate in the greatest speedway program in Wisconsin history, as arranged by exposition manager, Ralph Ammon with the assistance of President Tom Marchese of the Wisconsin Auto Racing association. The remaining afternoons are packed with speed thrills provided by Grand Circuit and Mid-West harness races and AMA national championship motorcycle races.

With prize purses aggregating $52,500 but with 40 per cent of the gate receipts as an optional award, all the great AAA dirt track stars of the country, including probably half the field from this year's Indianapolis 500-mile classic, will head for Milwaukee and the coming series of speedway classics.

AAA MIDGET KINGS will open the show with a sprint program, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 7, and a 100-mile championship race, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8. The dazzling Hurricane hot rods will take over for a sprint program, Monday afternoon, Aug. 9. Stars of the big cars will move in the following day for sprint programs, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, Aug. 10-11. National championship motorcycle races will be staged August 12, and an AAA national championship 100-mile auto race is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15.

HARNESS RACES take over the track on August 16, when Mid-West trotters and pacers start their four day meet ending August 19. Grand Circuit races get under way August 23 for four days.

With AAA aces at the wheels, there will be stock car sprints Saturday afternoon, Aug. 21, and a 100-mile stock car race, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22.

AMA sponsored national championship motorcycle races will bring the nation's top riders to the track August 27 and 28.

Climaxing the program and attracting a full turnout of top-notch speedway talent will be the AAA national championship 200 mile classic, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29.

PREVIEWS OF PROGRESS, an elaborate stage presentation that tells dramatically the story of America, will be presented daily in the Electronics building at the exposition.

The entire production is a non-commercial demonstration that is professionally presented in a manner easily understood yet spectacular in approach. It serves too, as a reminder, that many new scientific frontiers must still be explored and conquered if America is to remain great.

Two narrators of Preview of Progress demonstrate jet propulsion with a miniature jet engine in actual operation on the stage. The blast of the engines high pressure flame creates a roar similar to that of our modern jet propelled aircraft. Following this demonstration, models of jet propelled planes and a buzz-bomb are driven at high speeds the length of the building, propelled by tiny, but powerful, jet engines.

SYNTHETIC rubber and many other modern day products are manufactured on the stage and the processes are all explained by competent authorities. Progress in lighting is spectacularly shown, from the dim yellow glow of the first Edison lamp to the mercury vapor lamp. Smaller than a cigarette, it gives a light one fifth as brilliant as sunlight.

Other demonstrations include the development of sound recording beginning with Edison's first phonograph; induction heating by which an egg is actually fried on a cold stove; and music traveling in the beam of an arc lamp.

This entire non-commercial demonstration is presented at the Exposition by the General Motors Corporation as part of daily programs featuring every development in the field of electronics.

Citrus Producing Centers California and Florida produce more than 90 per cent of U. S. oranges; Florida and Texas nearly 90 per cent of the grapefruit; and California almost all of the commercial lemon crop.

Lake Zurich presents classic comedy, 'Taming of the Shrew'

Lake Zurich Playhouse takes pride in presenting "The Taming of the Shrew", by William Shakespeare, August 4-8. This gay, raucous play is probably the Bard's most famous and most popular comedy.

Its latest revival of national importance was the Lunt and Fontanne production on Broadway. However, each year sees many productions throughout the land in experimental, university, and summer theatres because of its appeal to the uninitiated as well as the lovers of Shakespeare.

Its story is a simple one; a gentleman from Verona named Petruchio who marries a dour, quick-tempered, sharp-tongued vixen named Katherine. The manner in which this is accomplished and accompanying situations are a sure guarantee for a refreshing and enjoyable evening.

Petruchio and Katherine will be played at Lake Zurich by Richard Bull and Geraldine Page. The entire production will be under the capable direction of Bella D. Itkin. The settings designed by C. J. Bailey and costumes by Lee Travis.

Next week the Lake Zurich Playhouse brings to its stage the popular "Papa Is All", by Patterson Greene. Geraldine Page as Mama and Walter Beakel as Papa will be featured in this delightful comedy about a Pennsylvania Dutch family. It opens August 11th for five consecutive nights. Tickets are on sale at the box-office and reservations can be made by writing or phoning L. Z. 4441.

Your weekly treat recipe

Refrigerator desserts are a good thing to keep on hand for these hot days. Raspberry whip is delightfully refreshing and delicately cool. It is tasty enough to whet anyone's appetite.

RED RASPBERRY WHIP
1 pt. whipping cream, whipped
1 pint red raspberries
1 cup sugar
2 tbs. gelatine
3 lemons (juice of)
4 tbs. cold water
1 cup hot water
Method: Wash berries and cover with sugar; add lemon juice. Soften gelatine in cold water; add hot water and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add berry mixture and place in refrigerator until nearly congealed. Whip cream and fold into jellied mixture. Place in sherbert glasses, or a large mold and top with whipped cream and berries.
Yield: 5 or 6 servings.

Rent offices to investigate complaints of faulty construction in vet's homes

The Chicago region, Office of Housing Expediter, has a deputy regional housing expediter for veterans' affairs starting this week, it was announced by Oscar G. Abern, regional housing expediter.

He is Dudley Bidstrup and his chief responsibility will be to direct the proper handling of complaints of World War II veterans who allege an overcharge or defective construction, in homes built under priority authorization. He has previously served with the Office of Housing Expediter in Dallas, Texas, and the former Civilian Production Administration in Kansas City, Mo.

Rent offices throughout the 7-state region (Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska) will be the chief point of contact for veterans who have complaints, Abern said. (In Chicago the area rent office is at 226 West Jackson Blvd., Room 1400. Norman B. Shogren is area rent director.) They will secure from these offices (31 areas and branches in the region) a complaint form, fill it out, and return it to the rent office. A supply of the forms are already in the hands of the area rent directors.

Abern said the initial "screening" of such complaints, to determine if there is a violation of housing regulations, must be done within 72 hours after receipt.

If examination of the complaint indicates a violation, or if the information is insufficient to determine without investigation that a violation has occurred, an investigation will be ordered. If no violation is disclosed, the veteran will be so advised by letter and told that no investigation is contemplated.

In investigated cases the person charged with the violation will be called in to the rent office and a settlement suggested on the basis of the investigator's report.

If a settlement is reached, the amount involved will be collected by the area rent director and turned over to the veteran. If there is no settlement, the case file will be returned to the regional housing expediter for veterans' affairs for disposition.

Abern said the new deputy regional housing expediter for veterans' affairs and the area rent directors will maintain close contact with veterans' organizations. "Proper handling of veterans' complaints of this kind has not been possible until now because of inadequate manpower under limited funds," Abern explained. Now Tighe E. Woods, national housing expediter, has gained congressional approval for a budget to cover this need and rent offices are to be the point of local contact since they are within convenient reach of most veterans.

Abern added that there is no present priority authorization law for construction of veterans' homes. The veterans emergency housing program expired December 31, 1947, but the violations occurring under it are still subject to this enforcement action. Nationally about 30,000 complaints have been on file. Those originating in the seven states of Region 6 will be allocated back to the region soon. The regional total is not known here.

Monkey experiment may reveal new polio vaccine

A possible vaccine for poliomyelitis may result from experiments now being conducted with monkeys, is the report from Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, director of the county health department, who returned from a week long International Polio conference in New York this week.

With the isolation of various strains of infantile paralysis there is "definite hope" of getting somewhere with a vaccine, the doctor said. Work with monkeys, he added, has shown some success though it calls for multiple injections over a two month period.

Also revealed at the New York session was an advance in the area of chemo-therapy—the use of drugs that will attack the polio virus in a manner similar to sulfa drugs on bacterial disease.

"We can't expect any miracles yet," Dr. Piszczek said, but added that the first international conference presented the opportunity to exchange medical literature and ideas. The group set up permanent plans which should go far to more rapid progress in combatting polio, he said.
